May Receive Parole After Five Years

New York (AP)—Atom spy David Greenglass, who helped doom his sister and her husband to death, got off yesterday with a 15-year prison sentence.

It was his reward for key testimony with which the government convicted higher-ups in an international wartime ring of Russian-bossed spies.

Greenglass could have gotten the death penalty or imprisonment for 30 years.

Federal Judge Irving Kaufman said he wanted to deal more harshly with Greenglass. But he said he was fixing the lighter sentence in the hope other American traitors might step forward and atone for their sins.

Greenglass will become eligible for parole in five years. If he is not paroled, he can accumulate time off for good behavior and win release in 10 years.

"You helped us to strike a death blow to the trafficking of our military secrets by foreign agents," Kaufman told Greenglass, as the confessed traitor stood before him as rigid as a statue.

Only Thursday, the same judge sentenced Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, to die for their part in the wartime spy plot. Kaufman gave another defendant, Morton Sobell, 30 years.

It was the first time an American-born spy ever had been sentenced to death in a civil courtroom.

Mrs. Rosenberg is a sister of Greenglass.

Attorneys for the Rosenbergs filed an appeal from the guilty verdict and death sentence during the day with the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The action probably will delay their execution, scheduled by the court of the week of May 21. Appeals often take months, especially if carried on up to the U. S. Supreme court.

Judge Kaufman talked at some length to the 29-year-old Greenglass before passing sentence.

"You, at least, had not added to your sins by committing the additional crime of perjury," Kaufman told him.

The judge referred to Greenglass' willingness to take the witness stand before a jury and help weave a web of guilt around his own sister and her husband.

Greenglass testified during the trial that Rosenberg talked him into handing over atom bomb secrets in 1944. Greenglass then was a soldier stationed at Los Alamos, N.M., cradle of America's A-bomb.

The Rosenbergs, Sobell, and Greenglass all were members of an international espionage ring that included British scientist Klaus Fuchs and Philadelphia biochemist Harry Gold.

Fuchs is in prison in Britain and Gold confessed and drew an eight to 30-year sentence.

The Rosenbergs and Sobell were the only American spies in the ring to deny their guilt and stand trial.

The ring was masterminded by Anatoli Yakovlev, a Russian who has disappeared. Presumably he long ago fled back to Russia.

Married Students Issue Rocks Town

Mt. Morris, Mich. (AP)—A controversy over whether married girls, a pregnant one in particular, can attend high school split this town of 2,500 yesterday.

Among other things it prompted a strike of 60 seniors at Mt. Morris High school and caused a mass meeting of students, parents and school authorities at which a State police sergeant acted as "moderator."

"Nothing was settled for sure, except that everything will be settled later," said Sgt. Vincent Neering, mopping a perspiring brow. All sides agreed, however, that Superintendent E. L. Clark had relented on a ban of married girls attending classes and had invited four to return — provided they brought their parents in to talk things over with him.

Some said he had lifted a ban against a fifth married girl who is pregnant. Others disagreed. Clark's office reported him unavailable.

Frank E. Walsh Dies

Oscar Collazo Sentenced To Die Oct. 26

Washington, (AP)—Oscar Collazo, the fiery little Puerto Rican who tried to assassinate President Truman last fall, was sentenced yesterday to die in the electric chair October 26.

A White House guard, Leslie Coffelt, was mortally wounded in the blazing gunfire in front of the Blair House, Mr. Truman's temporary home. And Collazo's companion, Griselio Torresola, was drilled through the head and killed by the only bullet the dying Coffelt was able to fire.

Collazo's lawyers have announced that they plan to appeal the verdict.

Given the customary chance to have his say before sentence was pronounced, the 37-year-old Collazo cried:

"Anything that I have done I did for the liberty of my country. I insist, even unto the end, that we have a right to be free."

This jibed with the defense Collazo had made during the trial, that he and Torresola were only demonstrating for Puerto Rican independence when they tried to shoot their way into the Blair House last November 1.

Russia Denies Troop Report

London (AP)—Russia said last night there were no Soviet troops in Manchuria.

The Moscow radio said the official news agency Tass was authorized to deny reports in the American press that Soviet troops are being concentrated in Manchuria. These reports, Tass said, are "invented and slanderous."

The broadcast said:

"On April 4 the speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, Mr. Sam Rayburn, made a statement in the House of Representatives alleging that in Manchuria 'non-Chinese troops are being concentrated.' Subsequently a number of American newspapers published statements to the effect that Rayburn had in mind that in Manchuria Soviet troops are being concentrated."

"Tass is authorized to refute these reports as invented and slanderous since no Soviet troops are in Manchuria."

FACING DEATH SENTENCES for betraying atom-bomb secrets to Russia Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, are taken from New York's Federal court in a police van. They were to be temporarily held at the detention prison and then taken to Sing Sing where, according to the ruling of Federal Judge Irving Kaufman, they are scheduled to be executed during the week of May 21. The first A-bomb spy defendants they were declared to be "worse than murderers."

Fine Clamps Pressure On Republicans Who Oppose State Income Tax Measure

Communists In Mysterious Retreat Northward Along Central, Eastern Fronts

Tokyo, Saturday (AP)—Red forces stole away northward to avoid battle with Allied troops forging ahead today on the central and eastern fronts in North Korea.

U. N. forces were puzzled as to whether the Communist Chinese and Koreans were up to some tactical trick or were forced to retreat.

The Allied forces pushed forward with caution to avoid thick minefields and booby-traps. They counted 800 enemy dead and wounded where the latest fighting was done before the fleeing Reds broke off contact.

Allied Eighth Army positions inside Red Korea were being consolidated from the Imjin river on the west to Yangyang, 16 miles north of Parallel 38 on the east coast.

There was one exception where a Red force stubbornly held to the Hanggye-Inje road east of Chunchon.

The sudden withdrawal of Reds along most of the line may mean they plan to set up a defense line in the hills and ridges north of the Hantap river.

Heavy American artillery cleaned the resisting Reds off five hills on both sides of the Hanggye-Inje road on the Allied eastern flank of the central front. American forces were reported pushing steadily up the road.

Another pocket of Red Chinese and Koreans stood and fought bitterly north of Yongyong inside Red territory.

The Eighth Army said the resistance in the Yongyong area was heavy and that enemy mines and booby traps were encountered east and northeast of Yongyong and north of Chunchon.

The Red retreat was made on a 17-mile sector north of Uijongbu, but how far it had gone was not disclosed.

Other Chinese on the 40-mile broad western and central fronts put up stiff fights at some points and negligible resistance at others.

The sudden disappearance of the Chinese north of Uijongbu surprised front line troops who had spent the preceding two days doggedly digging the Reds out of defensive positions only four miles north of the 38th parallel.

Observers agreed the withdrawal may have been ordered for one of two reasons: The Chinese Communists may be badly hurt and forced to regroup, or the Reds might be baiting a trap, set to touch off a mighty spring counter-drive.

A force of 280,000 Chinese still was deployed north of the 38th parallel in a sector loosely embracing the Hwachon-Kumhwa-Chorwon triangle.

Actress Loses Home

Los Angeles (AP)—The government seized the home of actress Veronica Lake yesterday for unpaid income taxes. Miss Lake and her husband, Andrew de Toth, owe $62,000 in taxes and interest on their income for 1946, 1947 and 1948.

MacArthur's Statements Raise Storm

Washington (AP)—General MacArthur's latest pronouncement on the struggle against Communism raised a storm in both Washington and London yesterday.

Several members of Congress disagreed with his contention that it is in Asia, not Europe, that "the Communist conspirators have elected to make their play for global conquest."

On the other hand, critics of the Truman administration demanded anew that the American and United Nations commander in the Far East be recalled to Washington for consultation. Senator Ferguson (R-Mich.) suggested that if MacArthur is unable to leave his duties for even a brief visit to the United States then Congress ought to send a delegation to Tokyo to confer with him.

In London the reaction took a different turn.

A Labor member of Parliament offered a motion of "no confidence" in MacArthur as the U. N. commander in Korea.

The motion deplors "the continued refusal of General MacArthur to refrain from reckless and irresponsible participation in political controversies."

This was apparently a reference to the General's support for the idea of throwing the 800,000 Nationalist troops Chiang Kai-Shek has on Formosa into the battle against Red China.

Lie Sees No Early Peace

Lake Success, (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie said yesterday the U. N. must fight with all the force it can safely commit in Korea until the other side signals it is willing to negotiate for a cease-fire. He said also he does not now expect a third world war, though it will take time to restore calm.

"Responsible governments have to prepare for the worst, but hope for the best," Lie said.

The top secretariat official shied away at his news conference from the storm over statements by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, U. N. commander in the Far East. He said any questions relating to MacArthur should be addressed to the United States government, to which MacArthur is responsible.

He refused to say whether U. N. forces should cross the 38th parallel, but insisted the U. N. aim is a unified and independent Korea.

"There has been no sign for many weeks that the North Koreans or those supporting them (Communist China and, some delegates charge, the Soviet Union) are willing to open negotiations for a cease-fire," Lie said.

Aluminum Usage Cut Again By NPA

Washington (AP)—Use of aluminum caps or seals on cosmetics, wine and liquor containers was ordered cut by 35 per cent yesterday by the National Production Authority.

The same cut from 1950 usage applies to aluminum lids for most glass containers and containers of ammonia and other chemicals.

Unlimited use is still permitted on containers of milk, milk products and certain drugs. Packers of other foods and drugs were limited to 1950 average use.

CHICAGO used truck dealer Morris Green tells a House Executive Expenditures committee in Washington that he cleared $425,000 profit on the sale of some 1,000 surplus American trucks bought from the Philippine government and resold in the U. S. Green testified that more than one-third of the trucks were sold to the Atomic Energy commission for $1,250,000, or $3,531 apiece. They were bought for $200 to $250 each.

Draft-UMT Bill Wins New Backing

Washington (AP)—The combination draft-universal military training bill got some Republican support yesterday as the House ended its general debate on the controversial measure.

Rep. Cole, of New York, a leading Republican on the House Armed Services committee, said:

"The foreseeable future offers no reasonable expectation that times will remove the need for a strong military establishment to protect this country."

And Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.), another committee member, argued with those who say the bill, if passed, will be a step toward militarizing the country.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Gavin said.

On the other hand, Rep. Shafer (R-Mich.), who also is a member of the committee, said there's only one reason why the UMT question is before the House now.

Shafer said:

"Gen. George C. Marshall, secretary of defense, has decided that now is strategically proper D-day for establishing a firm beachhead in the U. S. for his brand—and the Pentagon's brand—of permanent universal military training and national service."

Kaiser To Wed

Oakland, Calif. (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser, 68, industrialist, and Alyce Chester, 34, yesterday announced their intention to marry. The two met in the long struggle to save the life of Kaiser's first wife, Bess Foshburgh Kaiser, who died last month after having been critically ill since 1949.

Blonde and blue-eyed, attractive Guri Lie, 20, has been named as queen of the 24th annual Shenandoah Apple blossom festival to be held in Winchester, Va., May 3-4. A native of Norway, Guri is the daughter of U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie.

Court Cites Sawyer For Contempt

Washington (AP)—In an extraordinary and apparently unprecedented action, the U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday cited Secretary of Commerce Sawyer for contempt.

The court said Sawyer had failed to carry out its order to return the $68,000,000 American President Steamship line to its former owner, the Dollar Co. In years-long litigation the government has contended it owns the line's stock because of loans granted the Dollar interests. The Dollars have hotly disputed this.

Government attorneys were unable to recall any previous contempt citation against a Cabinet officer in connection with his official duties.

Nine other persons were cited along with Sawyer, and all were ordered to appear in court next Thursday and explain why they think they shouldn't be punished.

The others who were cited: Deputy Attorney General Peyton Ford; Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman; George L. Killian, president of American President Lines, Ltd.; Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, undersecretary of commerce for transportation; Edward H. Hickey, Newell A. Clapp and Donald B. Macguiness, Justice department attorneys; Paul D. Page Jr., of the Maritime administration; and Philip H. Angel, a San Francisco attorney.

But the court didn't stop with the citations.

After government attorneys declined to withdraw an injunction suit, involving the steamship line and filed in San Francisco, the Court of Appeals issued an injunction of its own.

It "enjoined and restrained" Sawyer and the others "from proposing, seeking or advocating any step in any proceeding inconsistent with strict compliance and obedience to orders heretofore entered in these cases."

Yesterday's arguments brought out that the San Francisco suit was filed at the direction of President Truman.

Judge Bennett Champ Clark said he is an old friend of the President. But he told Hickey:

"If you have any idea that a letter from the President has any weight in this court you are mistaken."

"He has no more standing in this court than any other citizen. He has no right to influence litigation."

Cohen Indicted On Tax Charge

Los Angeles, (AP)—Mickey Cohen's troubles mounted yesterday as a U. S. grand jury indicted him on charges of evading taxes on a quarter of a million dollars income in three years.

The pint-sized gambler heard the news sadly at his radar-guarded home in an exclusive West Los Angeles neighborhood. "What can I say?" He replied to an invitation to comment.

Later he issued this statement: "No one knows better than myself that I am completely innocent of income tax evasion. The mere fact they also indicted my wife, who knows as much about my business as a day-old baby, shows the complete animosity of the indictment."

Berle Battles Katz-Suchy At Meeting

Philadelphia (AP)—The Polish delegate to the United Nations engaged in a push-and-shove battle with a former U. S. State department official last night in an argument over the use of American troops in Korea.

The participants in the scrap were Dr. Julius Katz-Suchy, permanent representative of Poland to the U. N., and Dr. Adolf A. Berle Jr., former assistant secretary of state.

They were speakers at the 55th annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences.

The pushing and shoving took place after Dr. Katz-Suchy, had been booed and heckled from the platform at the Benjamin Franklin hotel.

Rationing Of Meat Forecast By Industry

Washington, (AP)—Representatives of the livestock industry said yesterday that meat rationing will be inevitable within six months if the present price controls are continued.

Their meeting with Mobilization officials was closed to the public, but it was understood that economic stabilizer Eric Johnston argued that the controls must be continued if the economy is to be stabilized.

The livestock delegation was headed by Allan Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau federation.

In another development leaders of farm organizations said they see the possibility of food subsidies to farmers as a solution to the government problem in trying to stabilize the cost of living.

Not that the farm organizations want subsidies. Most farm leaders oppose them bitterly. But they may go along with the subsidy plan if the only alternative is to risk loss of the parity price protection.

Truman's RFC Plan Defeated

Washington, (AP)—A Senate committee turned thumbs down yesterday on President Truman's plan to revamp the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Members of the Expenditures committee voted 7 to 6 at a closed session to ask the Senate to block the President's proposal to eliminate the RFC's five man board of directors and put the huge government lending agency under a single administrator.

Unless the Senate acts by April 20, the reorganization will go into effect automatically.

The RFC has been under severe fire in Congress because of charges by a senate banking subcommittee that it allowed its loan policies to be influenced by a clique with White House contacts.

Appropriation Cut

Washington (AP)—A record-making 43 per cent cut was made yesterday by the House Appropriations committee in President Truman's $843,463,379 emergency budget for non-military defense programs.

The Weather

Increasing cloudiness and milder today with chance of scattered showers western mountain areas by night. Sunday mostly cloudy and mild with showers likely during the day.

Unions Here Praise Crowe And Shotwell

Heavy pressure began to build up here yesterday, with indications it will reach even heavier proportions today and tomorrow on Gov. John S. Fine's proposed one-half of one per cent individual income tax levy on income of all individuals in Pennsylvania.

The pressure came from both sides—from the Fine administration to whip in line all who oppose the tax, and from a new block of about 3,500 persons representing members of 23 American Federation of Labor unions and the wage earners in their family groups in Monroe county. The unions will wire the local representatives to stand firm against the tax.

Defeated in the House of Representatives 108 to 98, a parliamentary maneuver by the Fine forces will permit a motion for reconsideration of the bill next week.

Rep. John S. Shotwell, (R-Monroe), who joined with 22 other Republicans to buck the Fine administration along with the solid block of 86 Democrats in the House who voted against the measure, is known to be under great pressure to change his position. He will be put under even greater pressure during the week-end, Harrisburg sources said. This is Shotwell's first term.

Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe (R-Monroe), who joined five other Republican senators last week with an announcement they would join the solid Democratic Senate bloc against the individual income tax, if it reached the Senate, was under no less pressure.

Most of the maneuvers from the administration to enforce support of the tax from Republican legislators who revolted was rumor, but from such authoritative sources that no one here yesterday cared to deny them.

Some of the evidence around here yesterday was visible. Sherwood F. Watt, Allentown, one of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association regional leaders and part of the Grundy machine, was seen in Stroudsburg yesterday. He stopped off at one of the local hotels. Of course, he could have just been passing through, but the Harrisburg "hot cob" yesterday indicated that "all the stops are being pulled" in behalf of the individual State income tax. That could mean the Grundy machine has been called in to salvage some votes for next week's attempt at reconsideration of the income tax bill in the house.

The five-man Schuylkill county delegation, which voted against the measure Wednesday, was reported "in the bag" yesterday, while deals were in the process to bring others in line in that manner or by more direct methods. Northumberland county's assemblyman, for instance was reported from Harrisburg yesterday to be "in line." A deal to name Sen. G. Harold Watkins, Schuylkill, to the State Liquor Control board for the Schuylkill delegation was reported in Harrisburg yesterday.

The report on Senator Crowe indicated that he will remain adamant, unless the Senate vote gets down to where it is hopeless in other words until he is alone or virtually the lone revolver against the Fine measure.

Assemblyman Shotwell is still reported to be "needed," according to Harrisburg reports. That apparently spelled a weekend of "approaches" for the Monroe county (continued on page three)

NPA Extends Ban On Scarce Metals

Washington (AP)—The National Production Authority (NPA) yesterday ordered a system of "virtually complete control" over use of certain scarce metals used to add special qualities, such as hardening, to iron and steel.

The metals include boron, calcium, chromium, cobalt, columbium, manganese, molybdenum, nickel, silicon, tantalum, titanium, tungsten, vanadium and zirconium.

representative who stepped out of the "freshman" role last Wednesday to vote according to the appeals of voters in this region.

The Monroe County Central Labor union's 23 AF of L affiliated unions will frame wires to both Senator Crowe and Rep. Shotwell today.

They will appeal for continued opposition to the income tax and a sales tax substitute and emphasize that the wires, fully authorized and signed by union secretaries, represent the wires of some 3,500 persons in Monroe county.

Arthur B. Howe, president of Pike County association, has advised Senator Crowe—Pike with Wayne. Carlson and Monroe are in Crowe's district—that the senator's opposition to the individual income tax is sound and that residents, businessmen and taxpayers of Pike county are solidly behind Crowe's stand.

Mr. Howe suggests that a "Little Hoover commission" be created to make a complete study of State government to eliminate costly bureaus, agencies and other frills. He points to the outstanding example of the Hoover commission's work with the Federal government.

All Volunteers Taking Part In Search For Missing Man Must Register With Police

Milford—State police at the substation here said last night no one will be allowed to take part in the search through Pike county woods this morning without first being registered and assigned to definite search parties.

"We cannot send anyone into those woods who is not acquainted with the territory or accompanied by someone who is," they stated.

All volunteer searchers are urged to be present for briefing and registration by 8 a. m. The search will officially start at 9 a. m. both today and Sunday.

Headquarters for the operation will be the Scarlet Oak hunting camp, located two miles from Lords Valley.

Volunteers from the Stroudsburg area can reach this point by following Route 209 into Dingmans Ferry and then turning left on Route 950, which leads to Lords Valley.

State troopers will be in charge of volunteer searchers. They are asked to report to them at their headquarters in the hunting camp or to CAP headquarters located there.

As many as 1,000 Civil Air Patrol officers and men, sportsmen and volunteers are expected to take part in the weekend search for George Franks, Philadelphia hunter who disappeared in the thick woods last December 4.

State police related their phone has been ringing constantly since plans for the search were announced.

Search parties numbering in the hundreds from surrounding regions have volunteered their services to authorities. Many veteran Pike county woodsmen and sportsmen have also volunteered to lead search parties through the treacherous 20-square-mile tract that has often spelled trouble for the less experienced.

Police complained that more persons have been lost recently in the woods than in the past several years.

Troopers, in cooperation with the State Department of Forests and Waters, have continued the search for Franks since he disappeared over five months ago. They found no signs of the hunter. Only one thing is definitely known, they stated, and that is the fact he entered the woods.

Low Bids On State Building Total $377,202

Collins and Maxwell, Inc., Easton contractors, are the unofficial low bidders on the general construction of a new State Highway department maintenance building along Lackawanna Trail, near the Miller market and Wigwam Park. All bids for the project total $377,019.

The firm's bid, as announced by the State Department of Property and Supplies, is $297,202.

Other low bidders are C. H. Sherry, Hazleton, $40,317 for heating and ventilating and $53,485 for plumbing, and John W. Dorick and Co., Scranton, $39,500 for electrical work.

The site, an extensive tract surrounded by wood tracts with an extensive frontage on Route 611, was purchased a few years ago.

Project calls for a modern steel, concrete block and brick structure with drives, outdoor machinery and material storage space, proper landscaping in the front. It would be necessary to drill a well to provide water for the facility.

The present Highway department maintenance building, is located on Day St., East Stroudsburg. It is a corrugated metal building.

This structure has been outmoded both in size and appearance for several years.

Income Bill Turndown

Opposition to the proposed state income tax stiffened as the Administration bill came to a vote in the House Wednesday. The resulting defeat came from a solid Democratic vote and a split on the question among the Republicans.

By taking a stand against the measure, the Democrats evidently felt that they had nothing to lose. It was not their primary responsibility to finance the Administration budget. So unanimously they shifted the full burden of the income tax proposal to the Republicans.

For various reasons 22 Republicans voted against the bill, three of them changing their votes to enable reconsideration of the income tax bill by next Thursday. Others were moved by local situations where municipal or school district wage taxes are already being levied; still others, finding public opinion adverse in their counties, deemed it politically inexpedient to go on record in favor of an income tax.

Under this first test of sentiment in the House, the arguments in favor of the tax did not prevail. Tables were produced to show that a 1/2 of 1 per cent state income tax would exact only comparatively small amounts from those in the lower income brackets—for example, $10 for a $2,000 income, $15 for a $3,000 income. The broadness of the base of the tax could not be denied.

It was contended by some on the sidelines that an income tax reaching into the pockets of a large proportion of the population would make more people conscious of government spending and lead them to be more watchful. This reaction has not been effective in the Federal realm, where the unchecked long-term increase in levies is clear to all.

One of the most potent arguments against the state income tax has stemmed from the experience in the Federal field and the consequent fear that a mild state levy today would be only a beginning.

The budget presented by Governor Fine offers this major challenge:

It must be subjected to that type of legislative scrutiny which stems from a desire to pare it so that additional revenues will not be needed.

Any attempt to substitute a sales or gross receipts tax is sure to encounter vigorous opposition. That brings us back to the basic desire of all taxpayers—cut the budget to fit the income.

Cancer Day

We have been taking a beating from an opponent who never fights fair. This opponent strikes at women, children and old folks, as well as men in the prime of life.

This opponent is cancer—and we should do something about it on C-Day (Cancer Day) on April 16 when adult and student volunteers call at our homes during "Lights On" times between 7 and 8 p. m.

From prehistoric times, cancer has been taking advantage of our lack of information. But now we are beginning not only to defend ourselves against this menace, but also to fight back.

Our best defense is knowledge. Thousands lick cancer each year simply by knowing three things:

1. That most cancers can be cured, if caught early.
2. That early cancer betrays itself by what the American Cancer society calls the "seven danger signals."
3. And that it is of vital importance to see the doctor immediately should one of these danger signals occur.

The counterattack against cancer consists of scientific research and the dissemination of life-saving facts about cancer.

This is where you come in. You have a personal stake in the fight, because cancer can strike—over the years—in one of every two American families.

Strike back on C-Day, April 16. Guard those you love by making a contribution and being as generous as you can.

Try And Stop Me

The latest story about that accomplished but unpredictable young star, Marlon Brando, comes from Tricia Hurst. She says that when Brando was preparing for his role in The Men, he entered a ward in a Veterans' hospital and spent four weeks there with thirty-one paraplegics, studying their problems and reactions.

One evening they were approached by a well-meaning but interminable old bore who assured them at great length that all they needed was sufficient faith to restore the use of their limbs. Observing the sufferers' distress, Brando suddenly simulated a spasm, jumped up from his cot with a yell, and broke into a mad version of the Lindy hop. The bore fainted and was mercifully removed from the scene of the crime. Thirty-one grateful paraplegics beseeched Brando for his autograph.

Hollywood

By Gene Handsaker

Hollywood—June Havoc has all the dope on blondes and brunettes. She's being both—at different times—in the same picture.

She has separate dressing rooms for her blonde and brunette selves. As a blonde, she won't enter her brunette dressing room, and vice versa. Reason? "I don't like to mix with myself," June said.

In the title role of "A Lady Possessed", she gets an obsession. She thinks she's ordained to take over the place of James Mason's dead wife. This means changing from blonde (June's real coloring) to brunette. Hence the dark-brown wig and separate costumes for much of the story.

Miss Havoc's conclusions on blondness vs. brunetness: A brunette can wear heavier perfumes. A blonde should buy conservative clothes. Women prefer brunettes. A brunette's features stand out more. A blonde looks slender. But acting is easier for a brunette. "That may sound like a brash statement," June conceded, "but a blonde has to light up a few more kilowatts from within to get the same voltage."

As her blonde natural self, Miss Havoc has always worn light, delicate, flowery perfumes. When she knew she would do this role, she bought a quart of musky mysterious fragrance in Paris. "Like in the ads," she explained. "If you can't get him decently, drug him."

In the matter of clothes: "I can't wear yellows or golds as my blonde self. They're amazingly un-me. A blonde woman buying clothes has to be extremely modest. Her color is flamboyant. A dark woman is discreet to begin with; she can get away with almost any lily-gilding."

As a blonde she's "pretty eyesy" but even more so as a brunette. "Features stand out more with a dark frame around them. I thought I'd have to wear more make-up when I was dark to make my features stand out. I found it was just the opposite. And I look more slender when I'm a blonde."

These Days—By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

For instance, rice eaters are never satisfied with any other grain or even with a variety of meats and vegetables, their basic food is rice and whatever they put on the rice is a sideshow. This is true of millions of peoples in the east of Asia.

The rice-line lies south of the yellow river in China, and it includes Korea, Japan, the Malay peninsula, Burma, Siam, French Indo-China and areas of India. It might be possible in such a country as ours to eat cake instead of bread, but a rice-eater wants rice. Without it, he starves. He might try wheat or millet, but they do not serve him adequately. He craves rice even after a full meal.

The world production of rice is about 7,600,000,000 bushels and about 95 per cent of it is produced in Asia.

Sunday School Lesson

Scripture—Genesis 3:1-5; 6:5-9:17
By Newman Campbell

The problem of sin has been the subject of argument and surmise ever since the world began, we may presume. Why does man do the things he does? Why does he cheat, steal, maim or kill his fellowman? Why does he bring on wars that destroy all the things that make life on earth worth living?—wars that benefit no one?

Modern psychologists try to probe out the answers as to why individuals act as they do, but the end of crime and violence is not yet in sight.

In last week's lesson we saw the creation of the world and man and woman made and installed in a beautiful Garden in which was everything to make their lives contented and happy—no worries of any kind.

They could eat of the fruit of any of the trees except one—the Tree of the Knowledge of good and evil. Of this one, God warned them, they must not eat the fruit, or they would die.

Of all the beasts of the Garden, the serpent (who really was Satan) was the most subtle. Said he to Eve, "Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every Tree of the Garden?"

Eve said that might eat of every one but the Tree that stood in the midst of the Garden, but of that they might not eat, lest they die.

"Ye shall not surely die," said the serpent, "for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil."

Eve looked at the fruit, realized that it was good for food, pleasant to look upon, reputed to make one wise, so she ate of it herself and gave some to Adam, who also ate it.

The first effect of the fruit was to make them feel they were naked. They had been as God made them, and they had no feelings of immodesty, but now they hastily made aprons of fig leaves and wore them.

When God called Adam as He walked in the garden, both Adam and Eve hid, for they were afraid of what they had done.

The Lord God called Adam, saying "Where art thou?" Adam answered that he heard Him call but was afraid because he was naked. God asked immediately if they had eaten of the fruit of the Forbidden Tree, and Adam said, "The woman Thou gavest to be with me she gave me of the Tree, and I did eat."

When the Lord asked Eve what she had done, she blamed the serpent, saying, "The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat."

The Lord cursed the serpent, condemning him to crawl on his belly all the days of his life, to eat dust, and He put enmity between the woman and her offspring and the serpent: "It shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel."

Adam and Eve were to be driven from the Garden. They were to earn their living henceforth by hard work in the earth. At the east end of the Garden God put cherubim with a flaming sword which turned every way, "to keep the way of the Tree of Life."

This lesson covers so much ground that it is impossible to touch upon it all. Cain and Abel were born to Adam and Eve and as they grew up, Cain became jealous of Abel who found more favor with the Lord. Therefore Cain killed Abel, and was made a wanderer upon the face of the earth, with a mark on him so that all might know him and slay him not.

So wickedness spread over the face of God's earth, until the Lord was so angered that He decided to destroy everything on earth that He had created. One man, who was a follower of the Lord, Noah, was to be saved.

Him God commanded to build a great Ark, and to take his family and two of every living beast and creeping thing, in it to be kept safe from the flood that in Asia. China never grew enough rice to meet the demands of her population.

The Manchu dynasty, for instance, fell in 1911. This was preceded by unusually high imports of rice in 1902, 1907, and in every year following up to 1911. The import of the staple food of a country weakens that country's economy unless, as in the case of Great Britain, exports of products pay for the food. China obtained its additional rice from French Indo-China, Thailand (Siam), and Burma.

If we translate this into current politics, it is essential to Communist China that that country have free access to the rice of these other Asiatic nations. If anti-Soviet countries interfere with the movement of rice from those countries to Soviet China, the lack of rice or the high price of rice could be the reason for revolutionary movements in China. A starving people blames its government for failure to provide food, and rebels.

As a matter of fact, much of the labor troubles in China, which preceded the Communist revolution of 1925, was over rice, and the escalator clause which Walter

Reuther and General Motors think that they invented was introduced in China many years ago by the British-American Tobacco Company, whose wage scale was determined by the price of a picul (133 lbs.) of rice. They found that rice was more important than money.

But it did not work because inflationary prices knocked the props out from under all schemes and as the price of rice rose, the discount increased. Thus, Li Li-San, now in charge of Manchuria for Soviet Russia, was able to organize strikes in the Yangtze valley and Shanghai in 1925 to pave the way for the victories of the armies led by General Chiang Kai-shek and General Gaiens-Bluecher, the Russian, who then was engaged in conquering China—an effort which failed when Chiang Kai-shek turned on the Russians and the Chinese Communists.

Rice is then the one commodity which is related to the politics of these Asiatic countries as it is the basis of their economic life. And Soviet China does not have enough rice to take care of the needs of the people.

It is just diplomatic trickery

that, under such circumstances, Soviet China offers to sell rice to India, risking the starvation of the Chinese people with the object of winning a propagandistic victory. It is a design for conquest at any cost. On the other hand, if Soviet China should conquer Burma or French Indo-China or Thailand during the forthcoming summer, the offer of rice to India could be made with safety.

It is to be assumed, therefore, that all the factors indicate that both for internal and diplomatic reasons, Soviet China must seek to increase its rice reserves as soon as possible, even if that means that pressures have to be put on neighboring countries, to the extent of conquering them.

Hindsight is of little advantage and these days usually ends in the loss of human life. The Burma, Thailand, French Indo-China situation must inevitably lead to trouble as they are the granaries of surplus rice. It does not make sense to ignore this situation or to misunderstand it. We do not have to wait for another Korea, where we were caught without policy or purpose.

Interviews
Newspapers were impersonal interview recorders of events until the advent of the informal interview. News expressed in the form of person-to-person dialogue provided drama for the drama of current events. This technique was pioneered by Horace Greeley via an interview with Brigham Young wherein the Mormon leader admitted having 15 wives. The resulting uproar shook the foundations of journalism: When Greeley's critics accused him of being vulgar, he responded: "A narrow mind is the essence of vulgarity." . . . James Gordon Bennett later shattered all taboos by publishing a series of interviews with a prostitute. While his detractors raged, the circulation of Bennett's gazette zoomed.

Result: His belittlers became his imitators.
A reporter once asked Teddy Roosevelt if gambling could be legislated out of existence. . . . Roosevelt replied: "If our lawmakers hope to eradicate gambling by passing a law against it—then this nation should concentrate on building jails and lunatic asylums. The jails are for those who disobey it—the asylums for those who think it can be enforced!"

Famous names are not always the stars of interviews. One of the most poignant interviews was with a Lower East Side housewife in New York—after FDR passed away. . . . When the newsmen inquired if she had heard the news on the radio, Mrs. America said: "For what do I need a radio? The news is on everybody's face."

When Ralph Barnes was a cub correspondent in Paris, he interviewed Lindbergh after the transatlantic hop. The excitement afflicted Barnes with an acute case of the jitters. . . . When he returned to his office and was ordered to write the interview, Barnes pleaded: "I'm too nervous. I don't know what to write. I can't think." . . . His editor thundered: "Don't think. Write!" The jittery young reporter then composed his first yarn under pressure. Barnes later said he was so unnerved he could not remember a single sentence he had written, and when he read the story (a honey) he could not believe he had authored it.

Ironically, the interview was published without credit to Barnes. It appeared under the byline of the chief of the Paris bureau!

Karl von Wiegand, the Hearst war-exponent, had an exclusive interview with Germany's Admiral Tirpitz in 1914. Tirpitz warned his nation was determined to wage unrestricted submarine warfare. . . . British military chiefs and other Allied leaders brushed off Tirpitz's warning as a bluff. Had they taken the interview seriously, the course of history might have been changed. Three years later the U.S. was forced into the war as a result of would drown everything else on the earth.

The Ark was built, and inhabited as the Lord had told Noah, and in time the rains came, and continued for 40 days and 40 nights, until even the tops of the highest mountains were covered.

When the rain stopped, gradually the mountain tops appeared and the Ark came to rest on Mount Ararat. Noah sent out a raven, which went to and fro until the waters were dried up.

And Noah sent forth a dove which returned having found no spot on which it could rest; again after seven days, he sent the dove forth again and when it came it held an olive leaf in its beak.

When the earth was again dry and the Ark came to rest on the ground, Noah builded an altar to the Lord and offered a sacrifice, and the Lord promised that never again would He curse the ground, nor smite every living thing, and He set a rainbow in the sky to remind Him of His promise.

Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare.

Reporter Lincoln Steffens' first assignment was an interview with a stock broker whose partner had mysteriously vanished. When the broker refused to divulge any information about his missing partner, Steffens shrewdly switched the subject. They gabbled about Wall Street and related their biographies to each other. After babbling for two hours Steffens was convinced the missing broker was guilty of no more than a romantic escapade. . . . Suddenly the broker arose and ejaculated: "You're a persistent son-of-a-gun. I'll tell you what you seem so damn sure of anyhow. My partner skipped and took every cent we had!"

It was a cub reporter's dream come true—a page one scoop on his initial assignment.

Brandeis

However, in New Guinea's Manding district and neighboring islands, the primitive natives really believe that getting something for nothing is ordained for them by a higher power.

A so-called "cargo cult" has sprung up down there in which the natives imagine that an ancestor is coming back with rich cargoes of supplies, and that they don't have to do any work to get everything they need.

The Australian government has studied the problem, according to John H. Jones, representative for the New Guinea territory. As told by him to the Trusteeship Council of the United Nations the whole thing started by the appearance of lavish Army supplies during World War Two, when these natives saw and got many things they had never seen before and began to enjoy the fruits of what we call "civilization."

Only to them it wasn't civilization at all. They didn't know that those precious cargoes were articles manufactured by men and machines.

Like so many others who attribute everything they don't understand to supernatural forces these islanders came to believe that it was a form of magic to which only the whites had access.

But somehow they also concluded that in order to get these magical supplies they would have to give up everything they have, and that the magic would work only if they had nothing themselves and did nothing. (Sounds familiar, doesn't it?)

Sluggsy's Video Routine

The move is on to discredit the Kefauver Committee's great work and show that the top mobsters are really not so bad. Behind a smog created by an all-out attack on TV as something the swagging toughies can't stand, the work of the Senate Committee is already being belittled. There is a pretty powerful drive on to knock out the telecasts and give the hush-hush routines back to the law-breakers. This column holds that an honest man has nothing to fear of TV except his wife's sharp crack, "Herman, you look awful!" when he gets home from the hearing. Admittedly the rules for telecast hearings need changing. An innocent citizen can be made to look pretty nefarious to a video audience by the mere question, "How well did you know Attila, Bluebeard and Captain Kidd?" But nothing can remove rats as swiftly as video, even with modified rules.

The mobsters are not too confident TV in the public hearing is not here to stay. Some are already schooling themselves in television techniques for future appearance. Sluggsy McGuff, asked about this, replied, "I'm learnin' to play the ukelele and swing Indian clubs just in case."

Sluggsy told us he knew a dozen top racketeers who are taking television lessons at the moment, realizing that their task is to make the best impression possible instead of the worst. He says a friend of his (Bubblehouse Schnapps) is working up a trained dog act so he can give a television show in the courthouse corridors before and after the cross examination. He may even have guest stars.

"Why not face it?" says Sluggsy. "We made bums of ourselves in them Kefauver hearings by actin' scared. That's no way to win a television audience. Ya gotta be the picture of honest candor even when lying. If Costello had showed up in a cowboy suit, had of gave his name as uncle Frankie, offered a prize for slogans on boxtops, ordered the aides to shoot the works and acted like he was perfectly at home he would now have his own television program."

"What's to the story 'Scar-tissue' Hooligan of Homicide Incorporated is going in for roller skating?" we asked.

"He expects to be put on the grill under television some day and he thinks it would do him no harm if he skated into the courtroom," admitted Sluggsy. "I tell him I think he would do better on a high-wheel bicycle with his lawyer on the handlebars. But he's stubborn."

"How are the crooked politicians planning to meet the video threat?" we asked.

"The smart ones are takin' instructions in make-up at this very minute," he whispered out of the corner of his mouth. "I know one political organization that is putting on auditions every day where the slippery crumbum can develop video routines. I hear a certain Tammany man is working on a tambourine number. But he is havin' trouble with his wife. She thinks he should practice givin' cooking recipes between answers to guys like Halley."

"I forgot to tell ya I am studyin' poetry. The first time Tobey pulls his routine on me I'm gonna wind up and give him Gunna Din. The Night Before Christmas and the Old Oaken Bucket right between the teeth," concluded Sluggsy.

The Real News Newsweld
The Met is to go in for video and is seeking a sponsor. . . . We hear a packing house specializing in hams has been turned down but that a throat lozenge manufacturer is getting serious consideration. . . . Shipping note: Rita Hayworth docked the other day, completely eclipsing the liner De Grasse. . . . Shudda Haddim played a horse called "Ringmop" at Jamaica, but says the skinner must have been busy. . . .

Senator Harry Case's concern for a couple of gamblers cited for contempt by the Kefauver Committee is hard to follow. The boys, who were in the pink of condition, sat in the room under the blaze of video for two hours, complaining only when asked to answer personal questions. And their leering manner outdid anything previously seen by the TV audience. . . .

Mickey Cohen, alleged notorious racketeer, has bought a 25 per cent interest in a Phoenix drugstore corporation on an agreement that he will stand behind the cigar counter from 9 to 5 daily. Just to prove that people can find anything in a modern apothecary shop? . . . Ernest Hemingway has consented to release his yarns to television, and the prospect that the bullfight may crowd out the western seems fairly bright.

The ancient Spartans used to make their slaves drunk to show their children the repugnance of drunkenness. . . .

Just Between Us

The local scene for the next few Fridays is pretty well dominated by the youngsters with proms and plays and band concerts coming up. But it's the band concerts I've been thinking about. Pocono township high's last night; Stroudsburg's and Middle Smithfield on April 27; Stroudsburg's on May 3; East Stroudsburg's on May 4.

Pocono's band is the newest addition, and I suppose have the biggest job ahead of them—instruments, uniforms, music, repairs—and all of them costing good money that has to be raised somehow.

It's a tremendous job, but one that's infinitely worth while. Oh you may not think so when your youngsters go squeaking along in the early days of learning, but it's a revelation how fast they do learn.

But it's even more of a revelation to find out how much they get out of it—when they come home glowing with reports that they'd got through the "Heroic Overture" without a mistake and it was so exciting that it even made their heart beat faster.

When they stop reading the comic books at listen to the symphony on the radio—"now listen—there are the clarinets—"

When they come running downstairs at the first strains of a familiar march to join in with the radio orchestra, they've got something that nobody can take away from them. Something that parents should be willing to work for as more valuable than a new bike—and that they may use more in later life than the knowledge of how to recognize an ablativ absolute.

Barrett Board Rejects Bids For Transporting Pupils, Buys Four Buses Instead

Cresco—All bids received for furnishing of transportation of school children by private contractors were rejected at a special meeting of Barrett Township board of school directors. Instead, four new 48-passenger buses will be purchased.

Young People Of YMCA To Stage Circus

The circus is coming to town. It won't be a traveling show, but rather one in which boys and girls of high school age, as well as a number of college students, will take the roles of star performers.

Harvey Burris, boys' work secretary of the Monroe County YMCA, disclosed last night that he is conducting a talent search as a preliminary to staging a circus at the Y in May.

He said he is particularly anxious to contact young people who have trained animals, or animals—such as pet snakes or skunks—that could be fitted into the program. Anyone capable of putting on a circus act also is invited to take part.

Mr. Burris invited potential performers to drop a card to him in care of the YMCA and he will contact them in the near future.

The Sixtie Teachers. College chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, in cooperation with Mask & Zany, campus dramatic club, has picked a "Gay Nineties" melodrama for the next production.

"Lily, the Felon's Daughter," by Tom Taggart, will be presented in the college auditorium Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 18-20, at 8 p.m.

According to Miss Katherine B. McFarland, who will direct the play, the presentation of "Gay Nineties" melodrama has increased in the last few years.

She noted, however, these old melodramas are difficult to present because of the large cast, predominantly male, the many scene changes and the elaborate costuming.

Specialty songs in the melodrama will be sung by the featured players; "asides and alones" will be spoken by the actors directly to the audience.

Music will accompany the action and especially dramatic passages will be underscored by the familiar rattling of piano keys and ominous chords.

The audience will be invited to hiss the "black-hearted" villain and cheer the hero and heroine.

Miss McFarland, who is head of the speech department, is being assisted by David J. Marrington, student director.

Ice Hornets Develop Into 'Miracle Team'

Pittsburgh (AP)—Hockey fans who stayed away from the Pittsburgh Hornets' home games in droves this season are calling the Pittsburgh club the "miracle team" today.

More than 5,000 fans jammed the gardens Thursday night to watch the Hornets romp to their sixth straight victory in an astonishing turn-about bid for the Calder Cup championship of the American Hockey League.

The Hornets administered a third successive beating to the Hershey Bears to sweep their second consecutive playoff series, 3-2, 2-1 and 5-1. Pittsburgh previously smothered Springfield in the first series, 6-0, 9-0 and 7-2.

Coach Tommy Anderson doesn't know whether the waning hockey season has given his Hornets or their opponents spring fever. But he hopes the spell lining through the final best of seven game series the Hornets open with the Cleveland Barons in Cleveland tonight.

Longest Streak

An in and out team all season, the Hornets have shown the best evidence of a split-personality with the present winning streak, Pittsburgh longest of the season.

They edged the St. Louis Flyers for the fourth place berth by a fraction of a point, then were disqualified from the playoffs by league president Maurice Podoloff.

Podoloff upheld a Flyers protest that the Hornets played an ineligible man during the latter part of the season. St. Louis contained Pittsburgh acquired center John McCormack from the Toronto Maple Leafs after the February 15 deadline for procuring players.

Pittsburgh appealed the decision, and the league's Board of Governors comprised of club owners voted the Hornets back into the playoffs after nine grueling hours of hearing testimony and arguing the case in Pittsburgh.

Since then, the Hornets have been showing their gratitude to the club owners.

The Hornets have been packing up their stiff scoring pace with a model defense. Opposing wingmen are finding goalie Gil "the needle" Mayer hard to thread—when they can get to him.

Mayer has them on a strict diet averaging one goal a game. Meanwhile, his teammates have set up a roadblock that has held Gil's saves to 117. Hornet wingmen have peppered at the net with twice that many shots.

Gehrmann Defeats Wilt

Montreal (AP)—Don Gehrmann of the University of Wisconsin ran away on the final lap from Fred Wilt of New York in the Canadian Legion Mile feature event of the Legion's annual indoor track and field at the Forum last night.

Bettors Mark

Gehrmann, adding to his conquests this winter over Wilt, ran the mile in 4:12.4, bettering the legion record of 4:16.6, held by Gil Dadds of the United States. Stewart Ray of the New York Athletic Club was third.

Ray set the early pace while Gehrmann and Wilt ran close together. Gehrmann held off until the final lap before making his move and shot in front with three quarters of a lap to go. He finished with a four yard margin over Wilt.

Pocono A.C. Board To Hold Meeting

Members of the board of directors of Pocono A. C. local entry in the Blue Mountain League, will hold an important meeting at the home of Fred Hershey, general manager, 278 Smith St., East Stroudsburg, tomorrow night.

Problems

The meeting, listed for 7:30, has been called to iron out a few problems still facing the organization prior to opening the season. All those attending are urged to bring "ads" sold for the score card thus far, in addition to donations and team equipment.

Title Match Settled—Except For Television

By Jerry Liska

Chicago, (AP)—Heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles' title defense against light-heavy titlist Joey Maxim at the Chicago Stadium May 30 was all set yesterday, except for television arrangements.

At a signing ceremony before the Illinois Athletic Commission, President Jim Norris of the promoting International Boxing Club explained that his group would have to shop for a television sponsor of the 15-round bout.

Norris said the beer company which has sponsored IBC Wednesday night shows has a contract which expires May 23. The same company will get first shot at televising the Maxim-Charles

Former Amateur Champ Leads Field In Masters

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—A fledgling professional, Robert "Skeet" Riegel, gave the greats of golf a lesson on the greens yesterday to wrest a one-stroke lead at the halfway point of the Masters Tournament.

The bull-shouldered onetime Army Plebe halfback, puffed the eyes out of Augusta Nation's treacherous carpets, fired a four-under-par 68 over the 6,900-yard layout for a 36-hole total of 141.

Broken down, he had 33-35 for the par 36-36-72 pine-fringed course that played tricks on the finest shot-masters in the game this cloudy, dreary afternoon.

The first day pace-setter, halting little George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa., fell off his opening 68 pace with a 74 that left him tied for second place with National open champion Ben Hogan and young

Lew Worsham, the 1947 open

titlist, at 142.

The grim-jawed Hogan, who has never won a Masters, used 37 putts but still came home with a creditable 36-36-72. Worsham, representing Oakmont, Pa., also was erratic on the greens but managed to nail up a 35-36-71, matching his first round effort Thursday.

Unpredictable

Unpredictable Sam Snead wavered momentarily on the heart-breaking backstretch—going three over par on the twelfth and thirteenth holes—but settled to record a 37-37-74 which kept him very much in the running.

He was bracketed at 143 with three others—Lloyd Mangrum, the dogged little competitor from Niles, Ill., who won the National Open in 1946; John Bulla, the long-hitting former airline pilot from Phoenix, Ariz., and Dave Douglas, of Newark, Del.

Only three others in the hand-chosen field of 64 were able to match par, and they were even with it at 144. They were two-time winner Byron Nelson, now a graying cattle rancher of Roanoke, Tex.; Jim Ferrier, the pre-tournament favorite from San Francisco who came strong after faltering the first day, and Joe Kirkwood Jr., the big blonde lad who plays Joe Palooka in the movies.

Riegel, 36-year-old former National Amateur champion from Tulsa, Okla., used only 29 putts on his trip around the hilly, pine-fringed course.

The young National Amateur champion, Sam Uzzetta of Rochester, N. Y., shot a 72 for a 145 that places him in a very favorable position.

Tied with him are Bill "Dynamite" Goodie Jr., the snappily dressed little fat man from Valdosta, Ga., Lawson Little and Jack Burke Jr.

Irvin Leads Giants To Win

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP)—Monte Irvin smashed a 400-foot ninth inning homer yesterday to give the New York Giants a 10 to 9 victory over the Cleveland Indians before 4,838. It was his second homer of the game. His first round-tripper came with the bases loaded in the sixth.

Cleveland had tied the score at 9-9 in the top of the ninth on Dale Mitchell's two-run homer. Irvin, first up in the Giants' half, hit Al Olsen's first pitch over the center field fence to break up the contest.

Distance

Larry Jansen pitched the full game for the Giants. He gave 15 hits and six walks and surrendered homers to Mitchell and Luke Easter.

The Indians started Bob Feller, who went six innings. He was battered for five runs in the sixth on a home run by Wes Westrum and Irvin's first homer, which also traveled 400 feet.

Major Leaguers To Face Indiana

Camp Atterbury, Ind. (AP)—Three major league pitchers now serving in the Army expect to play with the 28th Infantry Division baseball team today against Indiana University.

Corporal Curt Simmons, former hurler for the National League's Philadelphia Phillies, is scheduled to pitch the first three innings. Pvt. Charles Bicknell, another former Phillie will hurl the next three frames with private Bob Millikan, ex-Brooklyn Dodger, finishing.

Little Training

The 28th Division club has limited its practice sessions to off duty hours due to a heavy training program. Bad weather has confined most of the workouts to the indoors.

Sewell Certain Cincinnati Will Be Improved This Season

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—James Luther "Luke" Sewell was, by turns, the worst and best manager in the National League last season.

Fortunately, Sewell's masterminding with Cincinnati became keener as the season progressed. Consequently, the club was a great deal better in September than it was in April. Therefore, it is safe to assume that the Reds will be an improved team in 1951.

New at his job with the Reds, the ex-Alabama collegian got off to a horrible start, his team winning only 15 and losing 38 of its first 53 games. However, Luke profited by his early mistakes and before long got his team rolling smoothly. Over the last 100 games, the Reds won 51 and lost 49. Only the New York Giants and Philadelphia Phils did better.

What accounted for the Reds' Jekyll and Hyde role last year?

"I guess it was my fault," the forthright skipper said. "I sacrificed speed for power and it didn't pay off. I began the season with slow players like Ron Northey, Jimmy Bloodworth, Walker Cooper, Danny Litwhiler and Ted Kluszewski. If they'd been hitting it wouldn't have been so noticeable. They weren't hitting, and when they did on occasions, we didn't get enough runs."

Youth

"It was then I realized we had to move the young fellows in," continued the man who led the St. Louis Browns to their only pennant in 1944. "Except for Kluszewski, who got better."

Sewell disposed of all the others. Youngsters Joe Adcock and Lloyd Merriman took over two of the outfield positions, Bobby Adams moved in at second and John Prames was promoted to the first string catching job. The team, aided by some great pitching from Ewell Blackwell and Howard Fox, improved by leaps and bounds.

"Now we've got some speed," declared Sewell. "Fellows like Merriman, Adcock, Grady Hatton and Bob Usher all can carry the mail. I'm not one to make predictions but I'll guarantee we'll win more than 66 games, the number we won last year. That's because we can't help but get off to a better start than we did in '50."

Pitching promises to be the Reds' strongest asset. Ewell "The Whip" Blackwell appears to be back in the form he displayed in '47 when he won 22 games including 16 straight. Despite illness and an appendectomy, Blackie won 17 games last year. Ken Raffensberger (14-19), Fox (11-8), Herm Wehmeier (10-18) and Willie "The Knuck" (18-14) round out the starting five. Frank Smith, Bud Byerly, Kent Peterson, and Eddie Erazt will handle the relief assignments.

Evers Blasts Three Homers

Memphis, Tenn. (AP)—Outfielder "Hoot" Evers snapped out of a prolonged batting slump and blasted three home runs as the Detroit Tigers defeated the Memphis Chicks, 11 to 0, in an exhibition yesterday.

"Hoot's three homers accounted for seven of the Detroit runs. Aside from his clouting, there wasn't much to the game. "Diz" Trout and Earl Johnson combined to blank the Chicks. Trout went the first seven innings and gave up five hits. He was never in danger because the Tiger infield came up with four double plays—two of them started by Trout.

Twelve Hits

All told the Tigers picked up 12 hits, with Viv Wertz and Johnny Groth each getting three, including a double apiece.

The shutout was the first for the Tigers this spring and their fifth victory in 17 exhibition games.

Yankees Gain Nod Over Austin

Austin, Texas (AP)—Frank Shea veteran New York Yankee right-hander who is essaying a comeback, allowed but one hit in five innings yesterday as the world champions edged the Austin Pioneers of the class "B" Big State league, 5-3. The game was called at the end of seven innings by agreement.

Lone Hit

Tom Jordan, catcher-manager of the local nine and former backstop for the Chicago White Sox, homered in the fifth inning for the lone hit off Shea. The Pioneers made only one other safety, a two-run double by outfielder Al Lawrence in the sixth. Bob Porterfield was on the mound for the Yankees at the time.

Red Sox Blank

Augusta, 12-0

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—Ellis Kinder pitched a five-hit shutout for the Boston Red Sox yesterday as they walloped Augusta of the South Atlantic League, 12-0, before 2336 fans.

Kinder, first Boston pitcher to go nine innings this spring, didn't walk a batter and struck out four.

A home-run by Dom DiMaggio—his third in two days—and Junior Stephens' three singles and triple featured the Red Sox' 13-hit attack against three Sully League pitchers. Billy Goodman also contributed three Boston hits.

The two fighters also agreed to a re-match within 90 days if Maxim upsets the Cincinnati champion who outpointed him in three previous meetings. The re-match split would be 30-30.

zienza that he would not approve higher than $20. Norris said the price scale would be worked out later, but that he had a $20 or $25 top in mind.

The contracts called Charles to get 40 per cent of the net gate and Maxim 20. There was no provision on the contracts for video fees, but Norris explained it would be on the same percentage basis, 40 per cent for Charles and 20 per cent for Maxim of whatever television plum develops.

The two fighters also agreed to a re-match within 90 days if Maxim upsets the Cincinnati champion who outpointed him in three previous meetings. The re-match split would be 30-30.

Bangor High Makes Initial Cut In Squad

Bangor — Coach Dave Thomas made the first cut of the training season in the Bangor High school baseball team yesterday and another reduction of players is expected to be made Wednesday of next week.

The Thomas charges are scheduled to make their first diamond appearance of the season on Friday, when the Slayers oppose Pen Argyl, at Weona Park.

Yesterday's cut in the squad found Thomas dropping such candidates as Jim Capozzolo, Gerald Tucker, Ronald Garis and Sam Uhler from the senior class.

Sophomores departing from the squad yesterday were Ignatius Farino, Darwyn Hoppel, Marcy Capozzolo, Bob Everett and Joe Martocci. Freshmen departing from the team were Carlton Freeman, Wayne Jones, Dick Payne, Sherwood Jones, Mike DeVito, Bob Vogel, Russell Roper, Nick Castellucci and Cliff Marsh.

The squad now consists of Dick Walk, Dominic DeFranco, Harold Frace, Glenn Raph, Vince DeFranco and Harry Caille, all seniors. Juniors still remaining on the team are Sherman Schoonover, Leonard Castellucci, Dick Craver, Nick Martocci, Blaine Stancombe, Tom DePaolo, and Asa Pysher.

Sophomores

Sophomores remaining are Tom Williams, Joe Yannuzzi, George Delasandro, Joe D'Imperio, Joe Heard, Dominic Impeccato, Bob Egbert, Bob LaPenna, and Rocco Cinelli. The freshman players are Dale LaBar, Rodney Taylor, Dick Price and Rodney Miller.

Raph and Walk are counted upon to carry the bulk of the pitching load for the Slayers, the former having made a mark for himself in American Legion ball and the latter with Portland, of the Blue Mountain League.

Schoonover, Gruver and Egbert are other members of the club with some pitching experience. Southpaws Taylor, Price and LaPenna, all rookies, have shown promise to date.

D'Imperio and Caille are counted upon to do the catching, with the latter showing more promise at the plate. Vince and Dominic DeFranco will hold down first and third base respectively again this year.

Heard and Pysher seem to have the inside track for second base and shortstop thus far, but are receiving plenty of competition from Martocci and Falcone.

The Bangor outfield is expected to be made up of Castellucci, Frace and Yannuzzi.

Bangor has picked the defending Lehigh-Northampton League baseball champion with which to open the season.

New Record Set In Relay

Columbus, O. (AP)—The New Haven Swim Club's number one quartet raced to a new world record of 3:23 last night as it won the 400-yard freestyle relay in the twenty-seventh National AAU indoor swims.

This pushed the Connecticut talent-laden aggregation to a record-breaking 80-point total with six events still to go in today's finals.

The New Haven club—made up of Yale freshmen, varsity and grads—now has amassed 16 more points than the previous record winning total of 64 garnered by Ohio State in 1947.

Points

The sprint relay team, with New Haven's second and third outfits taking the third and fourth spots behind Michigan State's ever-challenging quartet, plucked 28 points in the 400-yarder.

The 3:23 performance was eight-tenths of a second under the world mark of 3:23.8 set by the New Haven team in 1948, and far under the AAU record of 3:27.3 set by the same Yale squad.

Barons Trip Cubs

Birmingham, Ala. (AP)—The Birmingham Barons of the Southern Association blasted Cub pitcher, Bob Kelly, for four hits and three runs in the eighth inning last night to down the Chicago National League club.

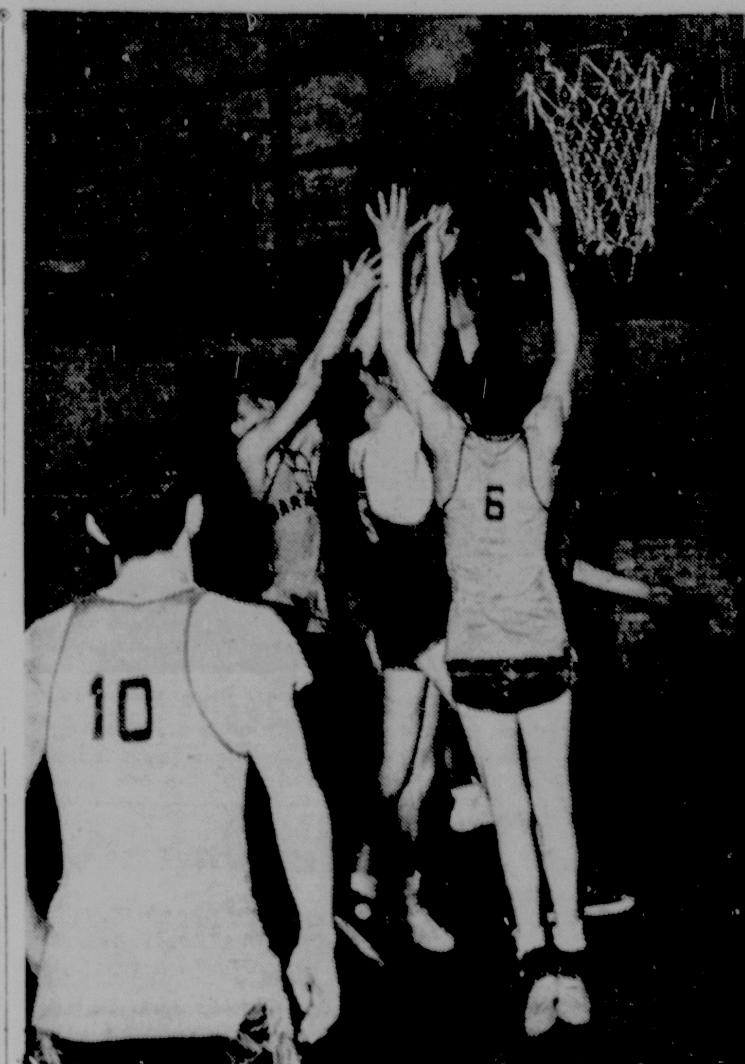

Chicago's lone run came on a second inning homer by Bob Borkowski.

Floyd Williams and Howard "Sonny" Strous are the hidden Warriors fighting for the ball.

Substitute's Substitute Gains Split Decision Over Hunter

New York (AP)—Terry Moore, a substitute's sub, turned out to be a surprise package last night as he scored a split ten round decision over "Chuck" Hunter of Cleveland in the main bout at St. Nicholas Arena, the Baltimore youngster weighed 159½ to Hunter's 161½.

Called in on 24-hour notice to fill in after Dick Wagner and Ray Barnes were forced out, the 21-year-old understudy made an impressive New York debut.

Crouch

Fighting out of a crouch, he piled up a big lead through the first seven rounds with short jarring punches at short range. He was very effective with a left hook to the head and body.

Judge Harold Barnes voted for Moore, 6-3-1, and Referee George Walsh scored for Moore 5-4-1. Frank Forbes cast his ballot for Hunter, 5-4-1, a decision that was roundly booed by the fans when it was announced. The Associated Press score card had Moore in front, 6-3-1.

Bangor has picked the defending Lehigh-Northampton League baseball champion with which to open the season.

Pirates Down Phillies

New Orleans, La. (AP)—An error in the last half of the tenth inning gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-4 victory over the National League champion Philadelphia Phillies last night in an exhibition game.

Fourth Period Rally Fails For Warriors

Twin Boroughs hung on grimly in the the last five seconds last night to defeat the Warriors, 54-52, and emerge with the Junior Gold Medal Basketball tournament championship, at the Monroe County YMCA. A terrific fourth period scoring burst failed by two points of reaching its mark for the Warriors.

On at least one occasion during the second half it appeared as if the Twin Boroughs contingent was ready to turn the contest into a one sided affair, but the Warriors came back to throw a real scare into Coach Harland Von Goldberg and his pupils before the final buzzer sounded.

Twin Boroughs held the upper hand throughout the contest, although badly outscored in the final round. The ultimate winner held a 10-6 edge at the end of the opening quarter, and increased the lead to a 26-17 count at the halfway mark.

Some Story

It was almost exactly the same story in the third period, as the Twin Boroughs contingent dominated the scoring, 16-12, to enter the final round on the long end of a 42-29 count.

However, it was during the fourth stanza that the Warriors really stepped the scoring tempo up to a rush. With virtually every member of the team breaking into the scoring column during the last eight minutes, the Warriors outscored Twin Boroughs 23-12, to come within a field goal of tying the score.

Bill Metzgar fouled out of the game for the winning team with one minute remaining and the Warriors pulled to within two points of Twin Boroughs with only five seconds left on the official clock. However, the leading aggregation managed to protect its advantage during the final hectic seconds.

Al Adelman, with 17 points, paced the winning scoring column, while Floyd Williams, with 11 tallies, was the big gun for the Warriors, as every member of the losing squad broke into the point production department.

Tobyhanna Township and Ray's Chiefs meet for third and fourth places in the tournament at 7 p. m. on Monday, while Pocono High school and the Pocono Jets clash in an exhibition game one hour later. Both contests will be played on the YMCA court.

Irish Entry Favored To Cop Today's Running Of Grand National Steeplechase At Aintree

Aintree, England (AP)—The Irish-bred jumper Shagreen emerged last night as a clear favorite to win today's one hundred and fifth running of the Grand National steeplechase.

Shagreen, owned by James V. Rank, millionaire flour miller, replaced the American-owned Arctic Gold as the number one choice for the tough four and one-half mile grind.

At the final callover of odds in London last night Britain's bookmakers listed Shagreen at 17 to 2. Arctic Gold, owned by the American sportsman John Hay "Jock" Whitney, was listed at nine to one. Previously, the two horses had been joint favorites at eight to one.

The Irish-trained, ten-year-old bay gelding Shagreen has been increasing in popularity since early March when he ran a good trial in treacherous weather and footing.

Other Odds

Third and fourth in the final odds list were Freebooter, half brother to an Irish plowhorse and winner last year, 100 to nine, and Roimond and Cloncarraig at 100 to eight each.

Roimond was second to Russian Hero in the 1949 National, while Cloncarraig was leading last year when he fell two fences from home in the 30-jump course, and Freebooter won for Mrs. Lurline

Brotherton.

Barring a sudden change in the weather—it's been chilly but dry here for three days—about 38 or 39 horses are expected to go to the post (10:15 a.m., EST).

The still eligible Lucky Purchase and Hal's Venture are considered almost definite non-starters, while Royal Tan is on the doubtful list.

Should they all be withdrawn it would be the first time since before World War Two that less than 40 started.

Rain could cause a big shift in sentiment, for Shagreen prefers good going. Freebooter needs good to firm underfooting because of his topweight of 175 pounds.

Cage Scandal Reflection On Schools

Fond Du Lac, Wis. (AP)—Minnesota's Gov. Luther P. Youngdahl said yesterday that student reaction to the recent basketball scandal arrests reflected failure of the educational system.

Youngdahl told 4,300 members of the Northeastern Wisconsin Education association.

"That college athletes would stoop to such dishonesty is a tragic commentary on our modern society. But an even worse sign of failure is to train young people in the art of living with integrity was the attitude of their fellow students.

Petitions

"Were they shocked? Were they ashamed by this plot on the record of their school? No! City College of New York loved its crooked heroes. Petitions with faculty and student signatures quickly demanded that the boys be allowed to come back to get their degrees some day.

"Long Island University students waved a sign addressed to their arrested stars saying 'Sherm, Leroy, Al, we still love you.' 'This all adds up to one thing, American youth must get quickly the sense of mission which is now dangerously lacking.'

Trial For Vander Meer

Forth Worth, Tex. (AP)—Southpaw Johnny (double no-hit) Vander Meer will join the Cleveland Indians in Dallas today for a try-out. The veteran's outright release from the Chicago Cubs became effective at midnight last night.

Cincinnati Captures Third Straight From Senators, 4-2

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—Cincinnati, behind the five-hit pitching of Howie Fox, downed the hapless Washington Senators 4-2 yesterday for their third straight exhibition win.

The Senators used two of their five hits with a Redleg error to chalk up a pair of unearned runs in the seventh. Prior to that, they succeeded in getting only one safety off the fire-balling right-hander while getting only one man to second.

Lead Attack

The Reds, led by terrible Ted Klusowski and Johnny Pramesa, pounded Washington lefties Al Sina and Floyd Ross for ten assorted bingles. Pramesa, whacked out a double and a homer and Klusowski belted a single and his fifth grapefruit league four-master.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Teams of the Pocono Mountain Baseball League face a truly fair schedule this year, in the humble opinion of this writer. The rural circuit will feature a slate of 18 games for each team, nine to be played at home and the same number on the road. The list of games also finds the ten clubs evenly dividing two holidays, playing at home on Memorial Day and on the road on the fourth of July, or vice-versa. The early finishing date of the circuit this year will also prevent football from stealing much of the circuit's thunder.

The final contest is listed for Sunday, August 26, but if games have been postponed during the regular season, they will be made up by Labor Day. However, if the circuit is fortunate enough to cram all the scheduled games into the stipulated time, the playoffs will begin immediately, so this column was informed following Thursday night's meeting of the schedule committee. Even though the schedule has been drawn up, it will not become official until approved by the entire league at a meeting a week from Monday.

A correction is in order this morning, concerning the erection of bleachers at Tobyhanna Township high school. The American Legion and not the firemen combined with the school and Pocono Lions Club in financing the bleachers to be erected on the basketball court. However, the firemen are taking care of the bleachers on the baseball field and all deserve the world of credit for bettering the athletic situation in the Pocono Lake area. My first report of this improvement neglected to mention the American Legion—very sorry.

Steve Kuk, recently discharged from Blair Academy, effective at the end of the present school year is well known in this area. Steve piloted Bloomingdale, N. J., of the North Atlantic League, for two years and is greatly responsible for the climb of Jim Lemon and Carl Sawatski into the major leagues. Kuk stuck with Lemon when the big flycatcher was striking out so often that the fans thought the red headed manager was wasting his time. However, patience certainly paid off, as Lemon was a member of the Cleveland Indians before being called into service, while Sawatski was catching for the Chicago

Cubs, before he too was summoned by Uncle Sam.

Steve, who once played with the Newark Bears, was the type of guy that was ready to play any position, although he was really at home in the outfield. However, it wasn't uncommon to see the red head on first base or any other infield position, or even make an appearance as a relief pitcher. However, Kuk really brought down the house when he caught a full game at Gordon Giffels field, after both his regular receivers had been injured in previous games. Although it was Steve's first trip behind the plate, he turned in a masterful performance as a catcher. Not only was he popular with the fans, but Kuk was also a good manager.

Steve Roberts' appointment as head master at Perkiomen Prep brings back memories to the people of this area of one of the greatest basketball teams in the history of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. During his tour of duty at ESSTC Roberts was blessed with outstanding talent in the persons of "Pistol" Pete Pasko, Ben Ford, John Mascavage, Joe Sager, Larry Disque and Al Ritter. Roberts left Normal Hill for a high school position somewhere in the Thousand Islands and the following year went to Beaver Dam, Wis., where he joined the faculty of Wayland Academy and Junior College. Pasko also joined Roberts on the faculty at Wayland, leaving a couple of years later to join the Wilkes-Barre Barons.

Ford was killed in World War Two. Mascavage is one of the faculty of a junior high school in Allentown, while Disque is playing coach of the Williamsport Billies in the Eastern Pro Basketball league. Guy "Turk" Possinger, former basketball star at Stroudsburg High school, is currently a student at Perkiomen and will come under Roberts' rule. Possinger is expected to enter the University of Maryland next year. Gilbert Smutz and A. Friend are the latest people to contribute to the Pocono A. C. local entry in the Blue Mountain league, treasury.

The intra-mural softball league games at ESSTC are being played on the soccer practice field this year, due to the fact that construction of new dormitories has temporarily hampered the game on the usual field near what is now termed the New Dorm.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to tell you your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Band, Chorus Present First Music Festival

Tannersville — Pocono Township school's newly organized band and mixed chorus presented their first music festival last night in the school auditorium under the direction of Carmen C. Cavuto.

The band, which is only seven months old, played ten selections. The chorus, which was organized two months ago, sang three numbers.

Although the band is a comparative infant in county student music circles, both Miss Harriet Learn and Miss Ann Louise Frailey were chosen from the band to represent Pocono High school in the district band.

Miss Learn was also chosen to represent Pocono High school in the Pennsylvania State band.

Miss Frailey, who plays violin, will soon represent her school at district orchestra. In the band Miss Learn plays clarinet, Miss Frailey alto saxophone.

Miss Patsy Hartman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Hartman, who plays first cornet in the band, played a cornet solo at the festival. She was accompanied by Miss Grace Brink, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Brink, who also is a member of the band and chorus.

Miss Ann Frailey, who is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Frailey, played a saxophone solo. She was accompanied by Miss Learn, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Learn, and Jane Bessecker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bessecker, played a clarinet duet.

Others taking part in the festival were Grace Brink, Frances Mooney, percussion and soprano singer; Ruth Warner, Beverly Peckhatka, Geraldine Hall, percussion.

Some Boards Not Assigned April Quota

Some draft boards in Pennsylvania are not being assigned induction quotas this month, according to Col. Henry M. Gross, State Selective Service director.

"This is part of the evening out process which Selective Service is going through right now," he told the Associated Press in Harrisburg.

The draft director said areas where enlistments have been heavy are being told that inductions will be light this month or that the boards will not have to provide any men.

Mrs. Beulah S. McConnell, chief clerk at Monroe County Selective Service headquarters, pointed out last night the local board has already inducted ten men this month to fulfill the April quota. They were inducted last Wednesday.

Friday, April 13, another contingent of 23 men will be sent to Wilkes-Barre for pre-induction physical examinations.

Apportionment Plan Termed 'One Of Many'

Harrisburg, (AP) — Chairman G. Graybill Diehm of the Senate Reapportionment committee said yesterday a Washington suggestion for congressional redistricting in Pennsylvania is "just one of many."

"Because it comes from Washington, it doesn't mean that we will adopt it," said the Republican Lancaster county state senator.

Pennsylvania's Republican congressional delegation agreed on a plan to do away with districts now represented by Reps. Wilson Gillette, Towanda Republican; Harry F. O'Neill, Scranton Democrat, and James F. Lind, York Democrat.

Diehm disclosed, however, that he will confer here next weekend with Rep. Richard Simpson, Huntingdon, dean of the State's GOP congressional delegation, to go over the plan.

A map showing the Washington idea of how to reduce Pennsylvania's congressional delegation from 33 to 30 because of a population lag has yet to reach him, said Diehm.

Diehm's committee is taking the lead in the Legislature's problem not only to redistrict congressional seats but also to decide on new boundaries for 50 State senatorial seats and 208 assemblymen.

His committee, as well as the one in the House headed by Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland), has been deluged with ideas of how to set up the districts.

Diehm said the legislators are now ready to get down to brass tacks on the detailed—and controversial—job of reapportionment after receiving official census figures from Washington earlier in the week.

If abolishment of the congressional seats now held by Gillette, Lind and O'Neill is accomplished, the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia districts would remain intact.

Gillette represents the 14th district — Montour, Columbia, Sullivan, Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne and Pike counties; O'Neill, the 10th district — Lackawanna county, and Lind, the 21st district — Franklin, Adams and York counties.

All three, however, would be residents of newly arranged districts and could run again in opposition to some of their colleagues.

Mercury Pushes Up To 61 But Weatherman Warns Of Possibility Of Rain Today

That welcome, warm sunshine poked the mercury into the sixties yesterday. The reason, according to Weatherman Michael F. Hannon, was "a big high pressure area" which crept over this region during the night.

Temperatures, for the first time in several days, evened out to average for this time of the year. During the early part of the week they remained cooler than normal.

But yesterday's weather was apparently a "one shot" affair with no immediate promise of becoming a habit... just yet.

Hannon warned there is a "bad low pressure area" headed this way from the west. As it moves eastward it pulls moist air northward from the gulf region.

If it continues on its course and doesn't skirt this region to the north, rain is almost certain today, he said.

Increased cloudy weather is expected, but the maximum temperature will probably reach the lower 60s for the second consecutive day.

Showers are predicted to begin after nightfall and continue through early Sunday morning.

Sunday will probably be cloudy and warm.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a high of 61 to a low of 42; mean was 52.

Winds were negligible, reaching an hourly velocity of only 3 mph.

Extended Forecast

Extended forecast for the period through Wednesday, April 11:

Eastern Pennsylvania, eastern New York and mid-Atlantic states: Showers tonight or Sunday and again about Tuesday; temperature will average three to five degrees above normal. Cooler late Sunday and Monday and warmer Tuesday.

Atom Spy Greenglass Let Off With 15-Year Prison Sentence

May Receive Parole After Five Years

New York (AP)—Atom spy David Greenglass, who helped doom his sister and her husband to death, got off yesterday with a 15-year prison sentence.

It was his reward for key testimony with which the government convicted higher-ups in an international wartime ring of Russian spies.

Greenglass could have gotten the death penalty or imprisonment for 30 years.

Federal Judge Irving Kaufman said he wanted to deal more harshly with Greenglass. But he said he was fixing the lighter sentence in the hope other American traitors might step forward and atone for their sins.

Greenglass will become eligible for parole in five years. If he is not paroled, he can accumulate time off for good behavior and win release in 10 years.

"You helped us to strike a death blow to the trafficking of our military secrets by foreign agents," Kaufman told Greenglass, as the confessed traitor stood before him as rigid as a statue.

Only Thursday, the same judge sentenced Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, to die for their part in the wartime spy plot. Kaufman gave another defendant, Morton Sobell, 30 years.

It was the first time an American-born spy ever had been sentenced to death in a civil courtroom.

Mrs. Rosenberg is a sister of Greenglass.

Attorneys for the Rosenbergs filed an appeal from the guilty verdict and death sentence during the day with the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The action probably will delay their execution, scheduled by the court of the week of May 21. Appeals often take months, especially if carried on up to the U. S. Supreme court.

Judge Kaufman talked at some length to the 29-year-old Greenglass before passing sentence. "You, at least, had not added to your sins by committing the additional crime of perjury," Kaufman told him.

The judge referred to Greenglass' willingness to take the witness stand before a jury and help weave a web of guilt around his own sister and her husband.

Greenglass testified during the trial that Rosenberg talked him into handing over atom bomb secrets in 1944. Greenglass then was a soldier stationed at Los Alamos, N.M., cradle of America's A-bomb.

The Rosenbergs, Sobell, and Greenglass all were members of an international espionage ring that included British scientist Klaus Fuchs and Philadelphia biochemist Harry Gold.

Fuchs is in prison in Britain and Gold confessed and drew an eight to 30-year sentence. The Rosenbergs and Sobell were the only American spies in the ring to deny their guilt and stand trial.

The ring was masterminded by Anatoli Yakovlev, a Russian who has disappeared. Presumably he long ago fled back to Russia.

Married Students Issue Rocks Town

Mt. Morris, Mich. (AP)—A controversy over whether married girls, a pregnant one in particular, can attend high school split this town of 2,500 yesterday.

Among other things it prompted a strike of 60 seniors at Mt. Morris High school and caused a mass meeting of students, parents and school authorities at which a State police sergeant acted as "moderator."

"Nothing was settled for sure except that everything will be settled later," said Sgt. Vincent Neering, mopping a perspiring brow. All sides agreed, however, that Superintendent E. L. Clark had relented on a ban of married girls attending classes and had invited four to return — provided they brought their parents in to talk things over with him.

Some said he had lifted a ban against a fifth married girl who is pregnant. Others disagreed. Clark's office reported him unavailable.

Oscar Collazo Sentenced To Die Oct. 26

Washington, (AP)—Oscar Collazo, the fiery little Puerto Rican who tried to assassinate President Truman last fall, was sentenced yesterday to die in the electric chair October 26.

A White House guard, Leslie Coffelt, was mortally wounded in the blazing gunfire in front of the Blair House, Mr. Truman's temporary home. And Collazo's companion, Griselio Torresola, was drilled through the head and killed by the only bullet the dying Coffelt was able to fire.

Collazo's lawyers have announced that they plan to appeal the verdict.

Given the customary chance to have his say before sentence was pronounced, the 37-year-old Collazo cried:

"Anything that I have done I did for the liberty of my country. I insist, even unto the end, that we have a right to be free."

This jibed with the defense Collazo had made during the trial, that he and Torresola were only demonstrating for Puerto Rican independence when they tried to shoot their way into the Blair House last November 1.

Russia Denies Troop Report

London (AP)—Russia said last night there were no Soviet troops in Manchuria.

The Moscow radio said the official news agency Tass was authorized to deny reports in the American press that Soviet troops are being concentrated in Manchuria. These reports, Tass said, are "invented and slanderous."

The broadcast said: "On April 4 the speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, Mr. Sam Rayburn, made a statement in the House of Representatives alleging that in Manchuria 'non-Chinese troops are being concentrated.' Subsequently a number of American newspapers published statements to the effect that Rayburn had in mind that in Manchuria Soviet troops are being concentrated."

"Tass is authorized to refute these reports as invented and slanderous since no Soviet troops are in Manchuria."

FACING DEATH SENTENCES for betraying atom-bomb secrets to Russia Julius Rosenberg and his wife, Ethel, are taken from New York's Federal court in a police van. They were to be temporarily held at the detention prison and then taken to Sing Sing where, according to the ruling of Federal Judge Irving Kaufman, they are scheduled to be executed during the week of May 21. The first A-bomb spy defendants they were declared to be "worse than murderers."

Communists In Mysterious Retreat Northward Along Central, Eastern Fronts

Tokyo, Saturday (AP)—Red forces stole away northward to avoid battle with Allied troops forging ahead today on the central and eastern fronts in North Korea.

U. N. forces were puzzled as to whether the Communist Chinese and Koreans were up to some tactical trick or were forced to retreat.

The Allied forces pushed forward with caution to avoid thick minefields and booby-traps. They counted 800 enemy dead and wounded where the latest fighting was done before the fleeing Reds broke off contact.

Allied Eighth Army positions inside Red Korea were being consolidated from the Imjin river on the west to Yangyang, 16 miles north of Parallel 38 on the east coast.

There was one exception where a Red force stubbornly held to the Hanggye-Inje road east of Chunchon.

The sudden withdrawal of Reds along most of the line may mean they plan to set up a defense line in the hills and ridges north of the Hantap river.

Heavy American artillery cleaned the resisting Reds off five hills on both sides of the Hanggye-Inje road on the Allied eastern flank of the central front. American forces were reported pushing steadily up the road.

Another pocket of Red Chinese and Koreans stood and fought bitterly north of Yongyong inside Red territory.

The Eighth Army said the resistance in the Yongyong area was heavy and that enemy mines and booby traps were encountered east and northeast of Yongyong and north of Chunchon.

The Red retreat was made on a 17-mile sector north of Uijongbu, but how far it had gone was not disclosed.

Other Chinese on the 40-mile broad western and central fronts put up stiff fights at some points and negligible resistance at others.

The sudden disappearance of the Chinese north of Uijongbu surprised front line troops who had spent the preceding two days doggedly digging the Reds out of defensive positions only four miles north of the 38th parallel.

Observers agreed the withdrawal may have been ordered for one of two reasons: The Chinese Communists may be badly hurt and forced to regroup, or the Reds might be baiting a trap, set to touch off a mighty spring counter-drive.

A force of 280,000 Chinese still was deployed north of the 38th parallel in a sector loosely embracing the Hwachon-Kumhwa-Chorwon triangle.

Actress Loses Home
Los Angeles (AP)—The government seized the home of actress Veronica Lake yesterday for unpaid income taxes. Miss Lake and her husband, Andrew de Toth, owe $62,000 in taxes and interest on their income for 1946, 1947 and 1948.

"Responsible governments have to prepare for the worst, but hope for the best," Lie said.

The top secretariat official shied away at his news conference from the storm over statements by Gen. Douglas MacArthur, U. N. commander in the Far East. He said any questions relating to MacArthur should be addressed to the unified command (actually the United States government), to which MacArthur is responsible.

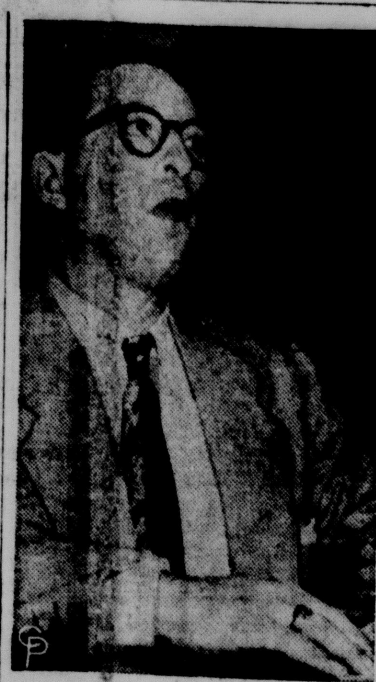

He refused to say whether U. N. forces should cross the 38th parallel, but insisted the U. N. aim is a unified and independent Korea.

"There has been no sign for many weeks that the North Koreans or those supporting them (Communist China and some delegates charge, the Soviet Union) are willing to open negotiations for a cease-fire," Lie said.

Aluminum Usage Cut Again By NPA
Washington (AP)—Use of aluminum caps or seals on cosmetics, wine and liquor containers was ordered cut by 35 per cent yesterday by the National Production Authority.

The same cut from 1950 usage applies to aluminum lids for most glass containers and containers of ammonia and other chemicals.

Unlimited use is still permitted on containers of milk, milk products and certain drugs. Packers of other foods and drugs were limited to 1950 average use.

CHICAGO used truck dealer Morris Green tells a House Executive Expenditures committee in Washington that he cleared $425,000 profit on the sale of some 1,000 surplus American trucks bought from the Philippine government and resold in the U. S. Green testified that more than one-third of the trucks were sold to the Atomic Energy commission for $1,250,000, or $3,531 apiece. They were bought for $200 to $250 each.

Draft-UMT Bill Wins New Backing

Washington (AP)—The combination draft-universal military training bill got some Republican support yesterday as the House ended its general debate on the controversial measure.

Rep. Cole, of New York, a leading Republican on the House Armed Services committee, said:

"The foreseeable future offers no reasonable expectation that times will remove the need for a strong military establishment to protect this country."

And Rep. Gavin (R-Pa.), another committee member, argued with those who say the bill, if passed, will be a step toward militarizing the country.

"Nothing could be further from the truth," Gavin said.

On the other hand, Rep. Shafer (R-Mich.), who also is a member of the committee, said there's only one reason why the UMT question is before the House now.

Shafer said:

"Gen. George C. Marshall, secretary of defense, has decided that now is strategically proper D-day for establishing a firm beachhead in the U. S. for his brand—and the Pentagon's brand—of permanent universal military training and national service."

Kaiser To Wed

Oakland, Calif. (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser, 68, industrialist, and Alyce Chester, 34, yesterday announced their intention to marry. The two met in the long struggle to save the life of Kaiser's first wife, Bess Foshburgh Kaiser, who died last month after having been critically ill since 1949.

Blonde and blue-eyed, attractive Bess Foshburgh Kaiser, 34, was named as queen of the 24th annual Shenandoah Apple blossom festival to be held in Winchester, Va., May 3-4. A native of Norway, Bess is the daughter of U. N. Secretary General Trygve Lie.

Court Cites Sawyer For Contempt

Washington (AP)—In an extraordinary and apparently unprecedented action, the U. S. Court of Appeals yesterday cited Secretary of Commerce Sawyer for contempt.

The court said Sawyer had failed to carry out its order to return the $68,000,000 American President Steamship line to its former owner, the Dollar Co. In years-long litigation the government has contended it owns the line's stock because of loans granted the Dollar interests. The Dollars have hotly disputed this.

Government attorneys were unable to recall any previous contempt citation against a Cabinet officer in connection with his official duties.

Nine other persons were cited along with Sawyer, and all were ordered to appear in court next Thursday and explain why they think they shouldn't be punished.

The others who were cited: Deputy Attorney General Peyton Ford; Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman; George L. Killian, president of American President Lines, Ltd.; Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, undersecretary of commerce for transportation; Edward H. Hickey, Newell A. Clapp and Donald B. Macguineas, Justice department attorneys; Paul D. Page Jr., of the Maritime administration; and Philip H. Angel, a San Francisco attorney.

But the court didn't stop with the citations.

After government attorneys declined to withdraw an injunction suit, involving the steamship line and filed in San Francisco, the Court of Appeals issued an injunction of its own.

It "enjoined and restrained" Sawyer and the others "from proposing, seeking or advocating any step in any proceeding inconsistent with strict compliance and obedience to orders heretofore entered in these cases."

Yesterday's arguments brought out that the San Francisco suit was filed at the direction of President Truman.

Judge Bennett Champ Clark said he is an old friend of the President. But he told Hickey:

"If you have any idea that a letter from the President has any weight in this court you are mistaken. He has no more standing in this court than any other citizen. He has no right to influence litigation."

Cohen Indicted On Tax Charge

Los Angeles, (AP)—Mickey Cohen's troubles mounted yesterday as a U. S. grand jury indicted him on charges of evading taxes on a quarter of a million dollars income in three years.

The pint-sized gambler heard the news sadly at his radar-guarded home in an exclusive West Los Angeles neighborhood. "What can I say?" He replied to an invitation to comment.

Later he issued this statement: "No one knows better than myself that I am completely innocent of income tax evasion. The mere fact they also indicted my wife, who knows as much about my business as a day-old baby, shows the complete animosity of the indictment."

Berle Battles Katz-Suchy At Meeting

Philadelphia (AP)—The Polish delegate to the United Nations engaged in a push-and-shove battle with a former U. S. State department official last night in an argument over the use of American troops in Korea.

The participants in the scrap were Dr. Julius Katz-Suchy, permanent representative of Poland to the U. N., and Dr. Adolf A. Berle Jr., former assistant secretary of state.

They were speakers at the 53th annual meeting of the American Academy of Political and Social Sciences.

The pushing and shoving took place after Dr. Katz-Suchy, had been booed and heckled from the platform at the Benjamin Franklin hotel.

Rationing Of Meat Forecast By Industry

Washington, (AP)—Representatives of the livestock industry said yesterday that meat rationing will be inevitable within six months if the present price controls are continued.

Their meeting with Mobilization officials was closed to the public, but it was understood that economic stabilizer Eric Johnston argued that the controls must be continued if the economy is to be stabilized.

The livestock delegation was headed by Allan Kline, president of the American Farm Bureau federation.

In another development leaders of farm organizations said they see the possibility of food subsidies to farmers as a solution to the government problem in trying to stabilize the cost of living.

Not that the farm organizations want subsidies. Most farm leaders oppose them bitterly. But they may go along with the subsidy plan if the only alternative is to risk loss of the parity price protection.

Truman's RFC Plan Defeated

Washington, (AP)—A Senate committee turned thumbs down yesterday on President Truman's plan to revamp the Reconstruction Finance Corp.

Members of the Expenditures committee voted 7 to 6 at a closed session to ask the Senate to block the President's proposal to eliminate the RFC's five man board of directors and put the huge government lending agency under a single administrator.

Unless the Senate acts by April 20, the reorganization will go into effect automatically.

The RFC has been under severe fire in Congress because of charges by a senate banking subcommittee that it allowed its loan policies to be influenced by a clique with White House contacts.

Appropriation Cut

Washington (AP)—A record-making 43 per cent cut was made yesterday by the House Appropriations committee in President Truman's $843,463,579 emergency budget for non-military defense programs.

Unions Here Praise Crowe And Shotwell

Heavy pressure began to build up here yesterday, with indications it will reach even heavier proportions today and tomorrow on Gov. John S. Fine's proposed one-half of one per cent individual income tax levy on income of all individuals in Pennsylvania.

The pressure came from both sides—from the Fine administration to whip in line all who oppose the tax, and from a new block of about 3,500 persons representing members of 23 American Federation of Labor unions and the wage earners in their family groups in Monroe county. The unions will wire the local representatives to stand firm against the tax.

Defeated in the House of Representatives 108 to 98, a parliamentary maneuver by the Fine forces will permit a motion for reconsideration of the bill next week.

Rep. John S. Shotwell, (R-Monroe), who joined with 22 other Republicans to buck the Fine administration along with the solid block of 86 Democrats in the House who voted against the measure, is known to be under great pressure to change his position. He will be put under even greater pressure during the week-end, Harrisburg sources said. This is Shotwell's first term.

Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe (R-Monroe), who joined five other Republican senators last week with an announcement they would join the solid Democratic Senate bloc against the individual income tax, if it reached the Senate, was under no less pressure.

Most of the maneuvers from the administration to enforce support of the tax from Republican legislators who revolted was rumor, but from such authoritative sources that no one here yesterday cared to deny them.

Some of the evidence around here yesterday was visible. Sherwood F. Watt, Allentown, one of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers association regional leaders and part of the Grundy machine, was seen in Stroudsburg yesterday. He stopped off at one of the local hotels. Of course, he could have been just passing through, but the Harrisburg "hot cob" yesterday indicated that "all the stops are being pulled" in behalf of the individual State income tax. That could mean the Grundy machine has been called in to salvage some votes for next week's attempt at reconsideration of the income tax bill in the house.

The five-man Schuylkill county delegation, which voted against the measure Wednesday, was reported "in the bag" yesterday, while deals were in the process to bring others in line in that manner or by more direct methods. Northumberland county's assemblyman, for instance was reported from Harrisburg yesterday that he "is in line." A deal to name Sen. G. Harold Watkins, Schuylkill, to the State Liquor Control board for the Schuylkill delegation was reported in Harrisburg yesterday.

The report on Senator Crowe indicated that he will remain adamant, unless the Senate vote gets down to where it is hopeless in other words until he is alone or virtually the lone revolver against the Fine measure.

Assemblyman Shotwell is still reported to "be needed," according to Harrisburg reports. That apparently spelled a weekend of "approaches" for the Monroe county (continued on page three)

NPA Extends Ban On Scarce Metals

Washington (AP)—The National Production Authority (NPA) yesterday ordered a system of "virtually complete control" over use of certain scarce metals used to add special qualities such as hardening, to iron and steel.

The metals include boron, calcium, chromium, cobalt, columbium, manganese, molybdenum, nickel, silicon, tantalum, titanium, tungsten, vanadium and zirconium.

All Volunteers Taking Part In Search For Missing Man Must Register With Police

Milford—State police at the substation here said last night no one will be allowed to take part in the search through Pike county woods this morning without first being registered and assigned to definite search parties.

"We cannot send anyone into those woods who is not acquainted with the territory or accompanied by someone who is," they stated.

All volunteer searchers are urged to be present for briefing and registration by 8 a. m. The search will officially start at 9 a. m. both today and Sunday.

Headquarters for the operation will be the Scarlet Oak hunting camp, located two miles from Lords Valley.

Volunteers from the Stroudsburg area can reach this point by following Route 209 into Dingmans Ferry and then turning left on Route 950, which leads to Lords Valley.

State troopers will be in charge of volunteer searchers. They are asked to report to them at their headquarters in the hunting camp or to CAP headquarters located there.

As many as 1,000 Civil Air Patrol officers and men, sportsmen and volunteers are expected to take part in the weekend search for George Franks, Philadelphia hunter who disappeared in the thick woods last December 4.

State police related their phone has been ringing constantly since plans for the search were announced.

Search parties numbering in the hundreds from surrounding regions have volunteered their services to authorities. Many veteran Pike county woodsmen and sportsmen have also volunteered to lead search parties through the treacherous 20-square-mile tract that has often spelled trouble for the less experienced.

Police complained that more persons have been lost recently in the woods than in the past several years.

Troopers, in cooperation with the State Department of Forests and Waters, have continued the search for Franks since he disappeared over five months ago. They found no signs of the hunter. Only one thing is definitely known, they stated, and that is the fact he entered the woods.

These Days -- By George E. Sokolsky

Sokolsky

Rice People who live on lower standards of living than ours do not vary their food as we do. They eat with monotonous consistency almost the same food every day.

For instance, rice eaters are never satisfied with any other grain or even with a variety of meats and vegetables, their basic food is rice and whatever they put on the rice is a side dish. This is true of millions of peoples in the east of Asia.

The rice-line lies south of the yellow river in China, and it includes Korea, Japan, the Malay peninsula, Burma, Siam, French Indo-China and areas of India. It might be possible in such a country as ours to eat cake instead of bread, but a rice-eater wants rice. Without it, he starves. He might try wheat or millet, but they do not serve him adequately. He craves rice even after a full meal.

The world production of rice is about 7,600,000,000 bushels and about 95 per cent of it is produced in Asia. China never grew enough rice to meet the demands of her population.

The Manchu dynasty, for instance, fell in 1911. This was preceded by unusually high imports of rice in 1902, 1907, and in every year following up to 1911. The import of the staple food of a country weakens that country's economy unless, as in the case of Great Britain, exports of products pay for the food. China obtained its additional rice from French Indo-China, Thailand (Siam), and Burma.

If we translate this into current politics, it is essential to Communist China that that country have free access to the rice of these other Asiatic nations. If anti-Soviet countries interfere with the movement of rice from those countries to Soviet China, the lack of rice or the high price of rice could be the reason for revolutionary movements in China. A starving people blames its government for failure to provide food, and rebels.

As a matter of fact, much of the labor troubles in China, which preceded the Communist revolution of 1925, was over rice, and the escalator clause which Walter

Reuther and General Motors think that they invented was introduced in China many years ago by the British-American Tobacco Company, whose wage scale was determined by the price of a picul (133 lbs.) of rice. They found that rice was more important than money.

But it did not work because inflationary prices knocked the props out from under all schemes and as the price of rice rose, the discount increased. Thus, Li Li-San, now in charge of Manchuria for Soviet Russia, was able to organize strikes in the Yangtze valley and Shanghai in 1925 to pave the way for the victories of the armies led by General Chiang Kai-shek and General Gaiens-Buecher, the Russian, who then was engaged in conquering China—an effort which failed when Chiang Kai-shek turned on the Russians and the Chinese Communists.

Rice is then the one commodity which is related to the politics of these Asiatic countries as it is the basis of their economic life. And Soviet China does not have enough rice to take care of the needs of the people.

It is just diplomatic trickery

that, under such circumstances, Soviet China offers to sell rice to India, risking the starvation of the Chinese people with the object of winning a propagandistic victory. It is a design for conquest at any cost. On the other hand, if Soviet China should conquer Burma or French Indo-China or Thailand during the forthcoming summer, the offer of rice to India could be made with safety.

It is to be assumed, therefore, that all the factors indicate that both for internal and diplomatic reasons, Soviet China must seek to increase its rice reserves as soon as possible, even if that means that pressures have to be put on neighboring countries, to the extent of conquering them.

Hindsight is of little advantage and these days usually ends in the loss of human life. The Burma, Thailand, French Indo-China situation must inevitably lead to trouble as they are the granaries of surplus rice. It does not make sense to ignore this situation or to misunderstand it. We do not have to wait for another Korea, where we were caught without policy or purpose.

Sluggsy's Video Routine

The move is on to discredit the Kefauver Committee's great work and show that the top mobsters are really not so bad. Behind a smog created by an all-out attack on TV as something the swagging toughs can't stand, the work of the Senate Committee is already being belittled. There is a pretty powerful drive on to knock out the telecasts and give the hush-hush routines back to the law-breakers. This column holds that an honest man has nothing to fear of TV except his wife's sharp crack, "Herman, you looked awful," when he gets home from the hearing. Admittedly the rules for telecast hearings can be made to look pretty nefarious to a video audience by the mere question, "How well did you know Attila, Bluebeard and Captain Kidd?" But nothing can remove rats as swiftly as video, even with modified rules.

The mobsters are not too confident TV in the public hearing is not here to stay. Some are already schooling themselves in television techniques for future appearance. Sluggsy McGoo, asked about this, replied, "Me? I'm learnin' to play the ukelele and swing Indian clubs just in case."

Sluggsy told us he knew a dozen top racketeers who are taking television lessons at the moment, realizing that their task is to make the best impression possible instead of the worst. He says a friend of his (Bubblenose Schnapps) is working up a trained dog act so he can give a television show in the courthouse corridors before and after the cross examination. He may even have guest stars.

"Why not face it?" says Sluggsy. "We made bums of ourselves in them Kefauver hearings by actin' scared. That's no way to win a television audience. Ya gotta be the picture of honest cartoon even when lying. If Costello had showed up in a cowboy suit, had of gave his name as uncle Frankie, offered a prize for slogans on boxtops, ordered the video men to shoot the works and acted like he was perfectly at home he would now have his own television program."

"What's to the story 'Scar-tissue' Hooligan of Homicide Incorporated is going in for roller skating?" we asked.

"He expects to be put on the grill under television some day and he thinks it would do him no harm if he skated into the courtroom," admitted Sluggsy. "I tell him I think he would do better on a high-wheel bicycle with his lawyer on the handlebars. But he's stubborn."

"How are the crooked politicians planning to meet the video threat?" we asked.

"The smart ones are takin' instructions in make-up at this very minute," he whispered out of the corner of his mouth. "I know one political organization that is putting on auditions every day where the slippery crumb-bum can develop video routines. I hear a certain Tammany man is working on a tambourine number. But he is havin' trouble with his wife. She thinks he should practice givin' cooking recipes between answers to guys like Halley."

"I forgot to tell ya I am studyin' poetry. The first time Tommy pulls his routine on me I'm gonna wind up and give him Gunga Din, The Night Before Christmas and the Old Oaken Bucket right between the teeth," concluded Sluggsy.

The Real News Newsreel

The Met is to go in for video and is seeking a sponsor. . . . We hear a packing house specializing in hams has been turned down but that a throat lozenge manufacturer is getting serious consideration. . . . Shipping note: Rita Hayworth docked the other day, completely eclipsing the liner De Grasse. . . . Shudda Haddim played a horse called "Ringmeup" at Jamaica, but says the skinner must have been busy.

Senator Harry Case's concern for a couple of gamblers cited for contempt by the Kefauver Committee is hard to follow. The boys, who were in the pink of condition, sat in the room under the blaze of video for two hours, complaining only when asked to answer personal questions. And their leering manner outdid anything previously seen by the TV audience. . . .

Mickey Cohen, alleged notorious racketeer, has bought a 25 per cent interest in a Phoenix drugstore corporation on an agreement that he will stand behind the cigar counter from 9 to 5 daily. Just to prove that people can find anything in a modern apothecary shop? . . . Ernest Hemingway has consented to release his yarns to television, and the prospect that the bullfight may crowd out the western seems fairly bright.

Income Bill Turndown

Opposition to the proposed state income tax stiffened as the Administration bill came to a vote in the House Wednesday. The resulting defeat came from a solid Democratic vote and a split on the question among the Republicans.

By taking a stand against the measure, the Democrats evidently felt that they had nothing to lose. It was not their primary responsibility to finance the Administration budget. So unanimously they shifted the full burden of the income tax proposal to the Republicans.

For various reasons 22 Republicans voted against the bill, three of them changing their votes to enable reconsideration of the income tax bill by next Thursday. Others were moved by local situations where municipal or school district wage taxes are already being levied; still others, finding public opinion adverse in their counties, deemed it politically inexpedient to go on record in favor of an income tax.

Under this first test of sentiment in the House, the arguments in favor of the tax did not prevail. Tables were produced to show that a 1/2 of 1 per cent state income tax would exact only comparatively small amounts from those in the lower income brackets—for example, $10 for a $2,000 income, $15 for a $3,000 income. The broadness of the base of the tax could not be denied.

It was contended by some on the sidelines that an income tax reaching into the pockets of a large proportion of the population would make more people conscious of government spending and lead them to be more watchful. This reaction has not been effective in the Federal realm, where the unchecked long-term increase in levies is clear to all.

One of the most potent arguments against the state income tax has stemmed from the experience in the Federal field and the consequent fear that a mild state levy today would be only a beginning.

The budget presented by Governor Fine offers this major challenge:

It must be subjected to that type of legislative scrutiny which stems from a desire to pare it so that additional revenues will not be needed.

Any attempt to substitute a sales or gross receipts tax is sure to encounter vigorous opposition. That brings us back to the basic desire of all taxpayers—cut the budget to fit the income.

Cancer Day

We have been taking a beating from an opponent who never fights fair. This opponent strikes at women, children and old folks, as well as men in the prime of life.

This opponent is cancer—and we should do something about it on C-Day (Cancer Day) on April 16 when adult and student volunteers call at our homes during "Lights On" times between 7 and 8 p. m.

From prehistoric times, cancer has been taking advantage of our lack of information. But now we are beginning not only to defend ourselves against this menace, but also to fight back.

Our best defense is knowledge. Thousands lick cancer each year simply by knowing three things:

1. That most cancers can be cured, if caught early.
2. That early cancer betrays itself by what the American Cancer society calls the "seven danger signals."
3. And that it is of vital importance to see the doctor immediately should one of these danger signals occur.

The counterattack against cancer consists of scientific research and the dissemination of life-saving facts about cancer.

This is where you come in. You have a personal stake in the fight, because cancer can strike—over the years—in one of every two American families.

Strike back on C-Day, April 16. Guard those you love by making a contribution and being as generous as you can.

Scripture—Genesis 3:1-5; 6:5-9:17

By Newman Campbell

The problem of sin has been the subject of argument and surmise ever since the world began, we may presume. Why does man do the things he does? Why does he cheat, steal, maim or kill his fellowman? Why does he bring on wars that destroy all the things that make life on earth worth living?—wars that benefit no one?

Modern psychologists try to probe out the answers as to why individuals act as they do, but the end of crime and violence is not yet in sight.

In last week's lesson we saw the creation of the world and man and woman made and installed in a beautiful Garden in which was everything to make their lives contented and happy—no worries of any kind.

They could eat of the fruit of any of the trees except one—the Tree of the Knowledge of good and evil. Of this one, God warned them, they must not eat the fruit, or they would die.

Of all the beasts of the Garden, the serpent (who really was Satan) was the most subtle. Said he to Eve, "Yea, hath God said, Ye shall not eat of every Tree of the Garden?"

Eve said they might eat of every one but the Tree that stood in the midst of the Garden, but of that they might not eat, lest they die.

"Ye shall not surely die," said the serpent, "for God doth know that in the day ye eat thereof, then your eyes shall be opened, and ye shall be as gods, knowing good and evil."

Eve looked at the fruit, realized that it was good for food, pleasant to look upon, reputed to make one wise, so she ate of it herself and gave some to Adam, who also ate it.

The first effect of the fruit was to make them feel they were naked. They had been as God made them, and they had no feelings of immodesty, but now they hastily made aprons of fig leaves and wore them.

When God called Adam as He walked in the garden, both Adam and Eve hid for they were afraid of what they had done.

The Lord God called Adam, saying, "Where art thou?" Adam answered that he heard Him call but was afraid because he was naked. God asked immediately if he had eaten of the fruit of the Forbidden Tree, and Adam said, "The woman Thou gavest to be with me she gave me of the Tree, and I did eat."

When the Lord asked Eve what she had done, she blamed the serpent, saying, "The serpent beguiled me, and I did eat."

The Lord cursed the serpent, dooming him to crawl on his belly all the days of his life, to eat dust, and He put enmity between the woman and her offspring and the serpent: "It shall bruise thy head, and thou shalt bruise his heel."

Adam and Eve were to be driven from the Garden. They were to earn their living henceforth by hard work in the earth. At the east end of the Garden God put cherubim with a flaming sword which turned every way, "to keep the way of the Tree of Life."

This lesson covers so much ground that it is impossible to touch upon it all. Cain and Abel were born to Adam and Eve, and as they grew up, Cain became jealous of Abel who found more favor with the Lord. Therefore Cain killed Abel, and was made a wanderer upon the face of the earth, with a mark on him so that all might know him and slay him not.

So wickedness spread over the face of God's earth, until the Lord was so angered that He decided to destroy everything on earth that He had created. One man, who was a follower of the Lord, Noah, was to be saved. Him God commanded to build a great Ark, and to take his family and two of every living beast and creeping thing, in it to be kept safe from the flood that

N e wspapers were impersonal interview recorders of events until the advent of the informal interview. News expressed in the form of person-al experience provided dialogue for the drama of current events.

This technique was pioneered by Horace Greeley via an interview with Brigham Young wherein the Mormon leader admitted having 15 wives. The resulting uproar shook the foundations of journalism: When Greeley's critics accused him of being vulgar, he responded: "A narrow mind is the essence of vulgarity." . . . James Gordon Bennett later shattered all taboos by publishing a series of interviews with a prostitute. While his detractors raged, the circulation of Bennett's gazette zoomed.

Result: His belittlers became his imitators.

A reporter once asked Teddy Roosevelt if gambling could be legislated out of existence. . . . Roosevelt replied: "If our lawmakers hope to eradicate gambling by passing a law against it—then this nation should concentrate on building jails and lunatic asylums. The jails are for those who disobey it—the asylums for those who think it can be enforced!"

Famous names are not always the stars of interviews. One of the most poignant interviews was with a Lower East Side housewife in New York—after FDR passed away. . . . When the newsmen inquired if she had heard the news on the radio, Mrs. America said: "For what do I need a radio? The news is on everybody's face."

When Ralph Barnes was a cub correspondent in Paris, he interviewed Lindbergh after the transatlantic hop. The excitement afflicted Barnes with an acute case of the jitters. . . . When he returned to his office and was ordered to write the interview, Barnes pleaded: "I'm too nervous. I don't know what to write. I can't think." . . . His editor thundered: "Don't think. Write!"

The jittery young reporter then composed his first yarn under pressure. Barnes later said he was so unnerved he couldn't remember a single sentence he had written, and when he read the story (a honey) he could not believe he had authored it.

Ironically, the interview was published without credit to Barnes. It appeared under the byline of the chief of the Paris bureau!

Karl von Wiegand, the Hearst war-correspondent, had an exclusive interview with Germany's Admiral Tirpitz in 1914. Tirpitz warned his nation was determined to wage unrestricted submarine warfare. . . . British military chiefs and other Allied leaders brushed off Tirpitz's warning as a bluff. Had they taken the interview seriously, the course of history might have been changed. Three years later the U.S. was forced into the war as a result of would drown everything else on the earth.

The Ark was built, and inhabited as the Lord had told Noah, and in time the rains came, and continued for 40 days and 40 nights, until even the tops of the highest mountains were covered.

When the rain stopped, gradually the mountain tops appeared and the Ark came to rest on Mount Ararat. Noah sent out a raven, which went to and fro until the waters were dried up. And Noah sent forth a dove which returned having found no spot on which it could rest; again after seven days, he sent the dove forth again and when it came it held an olive leaf in its beak.

When the earth was again dry and the Ark came to rest on the ground, Noah offered an altar to the Lord and offered a sacrifice, and the Lord promised that never again would He curse the ground, nor smite every living thing, and He set a rainbow in the sky to remind Him of His promise.

All true perches are fresh water fish.

Looking at Life

By Erich Brandeis

Since time immemorial man has tried to "get something for nothing."

Usually, in his attempt, he has to find a sucker, as all of us who pay taxes, well know.

However, in New Guinea's Mandang district and neighboring islands, the primitive natives really believe that getting something for nothing is ordained for them by a higher power.

A so-called "cargo cult" has sprung up down there in which the natives imagine that an ancestor is coming back with rich cargoes of supplies, and that they don't have to do any work to get everything they need.

The Australian government has studied the problem, according to John H. Jones, representative for the New Guinea territory. As told by him to the Trusteeship Council of the United Nations the whole thing started by the appearance of lavish Army supplies during World War Two, when these natives saw and got many things they had never seen before and began to enjoy the fruits of what we call "civilization."

Only to them it wasn't civilization at all.

They didn't know that those precious cargoes were articles manufactured by men and machines.

Like so many others who attribute everything they don't understand to supernatural forces these islanders came to believe that it was a form of magic to which only the whites had access.

But somehow they also concluded that in order to get these magical supplies they would have to give up everything they have, and that the magic would work only if they had nothing themselves and did nothing. (Sounds familiar, doesn't it?)

Incidentally, speaking of the United Nations, have you read the inventory of United Nations activities which Senator O'Connor of Maryland has just submitted to Congress?

His committee, he reported "has found that in the United Nations there has been a continuous increase in growth and activity which is clearly reflected in steadily increasing budgets and expenditures, projects undertaken, personnel employed, conferences, meetings and documentation."

This, according to the report, has "become a serious drain and burden upon the financial and manpower resources of many of the member governments. . . . and may ultimately impair the effective operation of the entire system."

You know, of course, that the United States pays 38.9 per cent of the entire cost of running the United Nations, while France pays 6 per cent, the United Kingdom 11 per cent and the loud-mouthed Soviet bloc 9.25 per cent.

In the meantime the New Guinea islanders are waiting for their miracle cargoes, and thousands of our soldiers are dying in the name of what is jocosely called the "United" Nations.

Germany's unrestricted submarine warfare.

Reporter Lincoln Steffens' first assignment was an interview with a stock broker whose partner had mysteriously vanished. When the broker refused to divulge any information about his missing partner, Steffens shrewdly switched the subject. They gabbed about Wall Street and related their biographies to each other.

After babbling for two hours Steffens was convinced the missing broker was guilty of no more than a romantic escapade. . . . Suddenly the broker arose and ejaculated: "You're a persistent son-of-a-gun. I'll tell you what you seem so damn sure of anyhow. My partner skipped and took every cent we had!"

It was a cub reporter's dream come true—a page one scoop on his initial assignment.

Had they not seen those World War Two supplies come to them when there was destruction and war?

So they went out and destroyed their gardens and their houses, their coconut stocks and whatever else they had.

Then they sat back and awaited the cargoes from heaven.

But the cargoes did not come and now the Australian government is confronted with the problem of looking after those people.

That is where the United Nations comes in — just like the United Nations seems to come in almost everywhere nowadays when there is trouble.

Incidentally, speaking of the United Nations, have you read the inventory of United Nations activities which Senator O'Connor of Maryland has just submitted to Congress?

His committee, he reported "has found that in the United Nations there has been a continuous increase in growth and activity which is clearly reflected in steadily increasing budgets and expenditures, projects undertaken, personnel employed, conferences, meetings and documentation."

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

The local scene for the next few Fridays is pretty well dominated by the youngsters with proms and plays and band concerts coming up. But it's the band concerts I've been thinking about. Pocono township high's last night; Stroudsburg's and Middle Smithfield on April 27; Smithfield on May 3; East Stroudsburg's on May 4.

Pocono's band is the newest addition, and I suppose have the biggest job ahead of them—instruments, uniforms, music, repairs—and all of them costing good money that has to be raised somehow.

It's a tremendous job, but one that's infinitely worth while. Oh you may not think so when your youngsters go squeaking along in the early days of learning, but it's a revelation how fast they do learn.

But it's even more of a revelation to find out how much they get out of it—when they come home glowing with reports that they'd got through the "Heroic Overture" without a mistake and it was so exciting that it even made their heart beat faster.

When they stop reading the comic books at listen to the symphony on the radio—"now listen—there are the clarinets—"

When they come running downstairs at the first strains of a familiar march to join in with the radio orchestra, they've got something that nobody can take away from them. Something that parents should be willing to work for as more valuable than a new bike—and that they may use more in later life than the knowledge of how to recognize an ablative absolute.

Barrett Board Rejects Bids For Transporting Pupils, Buys Four Buses Instead

Cresco—All bids received for furnishing of transportation of school children by private contractors were rejected at a special meeting of Barrett Township board of school directors. Instead, four new 48-passenger buses will be purchased.

Directors decided that cost of transporting school children with new equipment under the contract basis was entirely too prohibitive.

After a careful examination of findings made on transportation costs, the school directors decided to purchase the new buses.

Two of the buses will be furnished under contract by Raymond Price, Inc., Cresco, and two by Hugh Talmage, Canadensis.

In making their decision, the board was governed to a large degree by the fact that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will reimburse the school district at the rate of ten per cent of the original purchase price each year and the operating expenses at the rate of the fraction of reimbursement.

The board plans to advertise for applicants to drive these buses.

Harvey Burris, boys' work secretary of the Monroe County YMCA, disclosed last night that he is conducting a talent search as a preliminary to staging a circus at the Y in May.

Audience Invited To Cheer Hero, Heroine While Hissing Villain During College Play

The State Teachers College chapter of Alpha Psi Omega, in cooperation with Mask & Zany, campus dramatic club, has picked a "Gay Nineties" melodrama for the next production.

"Lily, the Felon's Daughter," by Tom Taggart, will be presented in the college auditorium Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, April 18-20, at 8 p.m.

According to Miss Katherine B. McFarland, who will direct the play, the presentation of "Gay Nineties" melodrama has increased in the last few years.

She noted, however, these old melodramas are difficult to present because of the large cast, predominantly male, the many scene changes and the elaborate costuming.

Specialty songs in the melodrama will be sung by the featured players; "asides and monologues" will be spoken by the actors directly to the audience.

Music will accompany the action and especially dramatic passages will be underscored by the familiar rattling of piano keys and ominous chords.

The audience will be invited to hiss the "black-hearted" villain and cheer the hero and heroine.

Miss McFarland, who is head of the speech department, is being assisted by David J. Marrington, student director.

Much Business Transacted At Club Meeting

Portland — Meeting Thursday night at Otto Hochrein's Grandview restaurant, the Portland Lions club transacted business, heard a lecture and saw motion pictures dealing with highway safety and, after the club session, acted as host to the Lions State Convention committee.

President Bery Transue was in the chair at the club dinner-session and special music numbers were presented under the leadership of Art Barrton, program chairman. The pot-o-silver prize was awarded to William Kennedy. District Governor Arthur J. Henry spoke briefly. A letter was received from students of the Delaware, N.J. school written by Ruth Williams, grade 7, thanking the Lions for a cash donation made at Easter to the school. The letter showed that the young people made the money cover a great deal of ground with an Easter egg hunt, Easter refreshments and other features. The club financed similar items for the Columbia, N.J. school and the home school at Portland.

Herman Heine, Frank Fredericks and Ernest Courtney, new Lions, were formally introduced.

William Livadas of Stroudsburg acted as tail-twister for the meeting.

Art Barrton, for the telephone committee, reported meeting with officials of the company and of good progress for betterment of service having been made.

A report was received on the plans for the coming band concert. A well patronized program is being issued.

A quintet sang selections. The singers were Lions Barrton, Haigh, Fee, Neeling and Delp. Lion Webb was at the piano.

Following the meeting Convention Chairman Harry J. Drennan of the Barrett club convened his committee and many details of the mounting convention preparations were acted on. A new feature announced was that the annual international councilors' dinner will be held on Sunday, May 20 at the Bluestone room in the Inn at Buck Hill Falls.

Dr. Olga M. Shlanta will be away from the office from Thursday, April 5th to Monday, April 9th.—Adv.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving tribute to my Beloved Husband, George Franklin Smith, who passed away on April eighth, 1950, one year tomorrow.

"Memories are treasures that none can steal.
Death brings a heartache that no one can heal.
Friends and others who see me smile,
May think that I've forgotten and by that the wound is healed.
But little do they know
The sorrow that's within my heart concealed.
The flowers I place upon his grave
May wither and decay
But my love for him sleeping beneath
Will last unto unending day.
Not dead to one who loved him,
Not just today but every day
Within my lonely heart,
I'll see his face on memory's screen
As long as we're apart
Still sadly missed by
WIFE, MARGUERITE

Ice Hornets Develop Into 'Miracle Team'

Pittsburgh (AP)—Hockey fans who stayed away from the Pittsburgh Hornets' home games in droves this season are calling the Pittsburgh club the "miracle team" today.

More than 5,000 fans jammed the gardens Thursday night to watch the Hornets romp to their sixth straight victory in an astonishing turn-around bid for the Calder Cup championship of the American Hockey League.

The Hornets administered a third successive beating to the Hershey Bears to sweep their second consecutive playoff series, 3-2, 2-1 and 5-1. Pittsburgh previously smothered Springfield in the first series, 6-0, 9-0 and 7-2.

Coach Tommy Anderson doesn't know whether the waning hockey season has given his Hornets or their opponents spring fever. But he hopes the spell lingers through the final best of seven game series the Hornets open with the Cleveland Barons in Cleveland tonight.

Longest Streak

An in and out team all season, the Hornets have shown the best evidence of a split-personality with the present winning streak, Pittsburgh longest of the season.

They edged the St. Louis Flyers for the fourth place berth by a fraction of a point, then were disqualified from the playoffs by league president Maurice Podoloff.

Podoloff upheld a Flyers protest that the Hornets played an ineligible man during the latter part of the season. St. Louis contended Pittsburgh acquired center John McCormack from the Toronto Maple Leafs after the February 15 deadline for procuring players.

Pittsburgh appealed the decision, and the league's Board of Governors comprised of club owners voted the Hornets back into the playoffs after nine grueling hours of hearing testimony and arguing the case in Pittsburgh.

Since then, the Hornets have been showing their gratitude to the club owners.

The Hornets have been packing up their stiff scoring pace with a model defense. Opposing wingmen are finding goalie Gil "the needle" Mayer hard to thread—when they can get to him.

Mayer has them on a strict diet averaging one goal a game. Meanwhile, his teammates have set up a roadblock that has held Gil's saves to 117. Hornet wingmen have peppered at the net with twice that many shots.

Gehrmann Defeats Wilt

Montreal (AP)—Don Gehrmann of the University of Wisconsin ran away on the final lap from Fred Wilt of New York in the Canadian Legion mile feature event of the Legion's annual indoor track and field at the Forum last night.

Bettors Mark

Gehrmann, adding to his conquests this winter over Wilt, ran the mile in 4:12.4, bettering the legion record of 4:16.6, held by Gil Dodds of the United States. Stewart Ray of the New York Athletic Club was third.

Ray set the early pace while Gehrmann and Wilt ran close together. Gehrmann held off until the final lap before making his move and shot in front with three quarters of a lap to go. He finished with a four yard margin over Wilt.

Pocono A.C. Board To Hold Meeting

Members of the board of directors of Pocono A. C. local entry in the Blue Mountain League, will hold an important meeting at the home of Fred Hershey, general manager, 278 Smith St., East Stroudsburg, tomorrow night.

The meeting, listed for 7:30, has been called to iron out a few problems still facing the organization prior to opening the season. All those attending are urged to bring "ads" sold for the score card thus far, in addition to donations and team equipment.

Title Match Settled -- Except For Television

By Jerry Liaka

Chicago, (AP)—Heavyweight champion Ezzard Charles' title defense against light-heavy titlist Joey Maxim at the Chicago Stadium May 30 was all set yesterday, except for television arrangements.

At a signing ceremony before the Illinois Athletic Commission, President Jim Norris of the promoting International Boxing Club explained that his group would have to shop for a television sponsor of the 15-round bout.

Norris said the beer company which has sponsored IBC Wednesday night shows has a contract which expires May 23. The same company will get first shot at televising the Maxim-Charles

Former Amateur Champ Leads Field In Masters

Augusta, Ga. (AP)—A fledgling professional, Robert "Skeet" Riegel, gave the greats of golf a lesson on the greens yesterday to wrest a one-stroke lead at the halfway point of the Masters Tournament.

The bull-shouldered onetime Army Plebe halfback, putted the eyes out of Augusta Nation's treacherous carpets, fired a four-under-par 68 over the 6,900-yard layout for a 36-hole total of 141.

Broken down, he had 33-35 for the par 36-36-72 pine-fringed course that played tricks on the finest shot-makers in the game this cloudy, dreary afternoon.

The first day pace-setter, balding little George Fazio of Conshohocken, Pa., fell off his opening 68 pace with a 74 that left him tied for second place with National open champion Ben Hogan and young Lew Worsham, the 1947 open titlist, at 142.

The grim-jawed Hogan, who has never won a Masters, used 37 putts but still came home with a creditable 36-36-72. Worsham, representing Oakmont, Pa., also was erratic on the greens but managed to nail up a 35-36-71, matching his first round effort Thursday.

Unpredictable

Unpredictable Sam Snead wavered momentarily on the heart-breaking backstretch—going three over par on the twelfth and thirteenth holes—but settled to record a 37-37-74 which kept him very much in the running.

He was bracketed at 143 with three others—Lloyd Mangrum, the dogged little competitor from Niles, Ill., who won the National Open in 1946; John Bulla, the long-hitting former airline pilot from Phoenix, Ariz., and Dave Douglas, of Newark, Del.

Only three others in the hand-chosen field of 64 were able to match par, and they were even with it at 144. They were two-time winner Byron Nelson, now a graying cattle rancher of Roanoke, Tex.; Jim Ferris, the pre-tournament favorite from San Francisco who came strong after faltering the first day, and Joe Kirkwood Jr., the big blonde lad who plays Joe Palooka in the movies.

Riegel, 36-year-old former National Amateur champion from Tulsa, Okla., used only 29 putts on his trip around the hilly, pine-fringed course.

The young National Amateur champion, Sam Uzzetta of Rochester, N. Y., shot a 72 for a 145 that places him in a very favorable position.

Tied with him are Bill "Dynamite" Goodloe Jr., the snappily dressed little fat man from Valdosta, Ga., Lawson Little and Jack Burke Jr.

Irvin Leads Giants To Win

Fort Worth, Tex. (AP)—Monte Irvin smashed a 400-foot ninth inning homer yesterday to give the New York Giants a 10 to 9 victory over the Cleveland Indians before 4,838. It was his second homer of the game. His first round-tripper came with the bases loaded in the sixth.

Cleveland had tied the score at 9-9 in the top of the ninth on Dale Mitchell's two-run homer. Irvin, first up in the Giants' half, hit Al Olsen's first pitch over the center field fence to break up the contest.

Distance

Larry Jansen pitched the full game for the Giants. He gave 15 hits and six walks and surrendered homers to Mitchell and Luke Easter.

The Indians started Bob Feller, who went six innings. He was battered for five runs in the sixth on a home run by Wes Westrum and Irvin's first homer, which also traveled 400 feet.

Major Leaguers To Face Indiana

Camp Atterbury, Ind. (AP)—Three major league pitchers now serving in the Army expect to play with the 28th Infantry Division baseball team today against Indiana University.

Corporal Curt Simmons, former hurler for the National League's Philadelphia Phillies, is scheduled to pitch the first three innings. Pvt. Charles Bicknell, another former Philly will hurl the next three frames with private Bob Milligan, ex-Brooklyn Dodger, finishing.

Little Training

The 28th Division club has limited its practice sessions to off duty hours due to a heavy training program. Bad weather has confined most of the workouts to the indoors.

Sewell Certain Cincinnati Will Be Improved This Season

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—James Luther "Luke" Sewell was, by turns, the worst and best manager in the National League last season.

Fortunately, Sewell's masterminding with Cincinnati became keener as the season progressed. Consequently, the club was a great deal better in September than it was in April. Therefore, it is safe to assume that the Reds will be an improved team in 1951.

New at his job with the Reds, the ex-Alabama collegian got off to a horrible start, his team winning only 15 and losing 38 of its first 53 games. However, Luke profited by his early mistakes and before long got his team rolling smoothly. Over the last 100 games, the Reds won 51 and lost 49. Only the New York Giants and Philadelphia Phils did better.

What accounted for the Reds' Jekyll and Hyde role last year? "I guess it was my fault," the forthright skipper said. "I sacrificed speed for power and it didn't pay off. I began the season with slow players like Ron Northey, Jimmy Bloodworth, Walker Cooper, Danny Litwhiler and Ted Kluszewski. If they'd been hitting it wouldn't have been so noticeable. They weren't hitting, and when they did on occasions, we didn't get enough runs."

Youth

"It was then I realized we had to move the young fellows in," continued the man who led the St. Louis Browns to their only pennant in 1944. "Except for Kluszewski, who got better."

Sewell disposed of all the others. Youngsters Joe Adcock and Lloyd Merriman took over two of the outfield positions, Bobby Adams moved in at second and John Pramesa was promoted to the first string catching job. The team, aided by some great pitching from Ewell Blackwell and Howard Fox, improved by leaps and bounds.

"Now we've got some speed," declared Sewell. "Fellows like Merriman, Adcock, Grady Hatton and Bob Usher all can carry the mail. I'm not one to make predictions but I guarantee we'll win more than 66 games, the number we won last year. That's because we can't help but get off to a better start than we did in '50."

Pitching promises to be the Reds' strongest asset. Ewell "The Whip" Blackwell appears to be back in the form he displayed in '47 when he won 22 games including 16 straight. Despite illness and an appendectomy, Blackie won 17 games last year. Ken Raffensberger (14-19), Fox (11-8), Herm Wehmeier (10-18) and Willie "The Knuck" Ramsdell (8-14) round out the starting five. Frank Smith, Bud Byerly, Kent Peterson, and Eddie Erazt will handle the relief assignments.

The Bangor outfield is expected to be made up of Castellucci, France and Yannuzzi.

Bangor High Makes Initial Cut In Squad

Bangor — Coach Dave Thomas made the first cut of the training season in the Bangor High school baseball team yesterday and another reduction of players is expected to be made Wednesday of next week. The Thomas charges are scheduled to make their first diamond appearance of the season on Friday, when the Slaters oppose Pen Argyl, at Weona Park.

Yesterday's cut in the squad found Thomas dropping such candidates as Jim Capozzolo, Gerald Tucker, Ronald Garris and Sam Uhler from the senior class.

Sophomores departing from the squad yesterday were Ignatius Farino, Darwyn Happel, Marcy Capozzolo, Bob Everett and Joe Martocci. Freshmen departing from the team were Carlton Freeman, Wayne Jones, Dick Payne, Sherwood Jones, Mike DeVito, Bob Vogel, Russell Roper, Nick Castellucci and Cliff Marsh.

The squad now consists of Dick Walk, Dominic DeFranco, Harold France, Glenn Raph, Vince DeFranco and Harry Callie, all seniors. Juniors still remaining on the team are Sherman Schoonover, Leonard Castellucci, Dick Cruver, Nick Martocci, Blaine Stancombe, Tom DePaolo, and Asa Pysher.

Sophomores remaining are Tom Williams, Joe Yannuzzi, George Delasandro, Joe D'Imperio, Joe Heard, Dominic Impeccato, Bob Egbert, Bob LaPenna, and Rocco Cinelli. The freshman players are Dale LaBar, Rodney Taylor, Dick Price and Rodney Miller.

Raph and Walk are counted upon to carry the bulk of the pitching load for the Slaters, the former having made a mark for himself in American Legion ball and the latter with Portland, of the Blue Mountain League.

Schoonover, Gruver and Egbert are other members of the club with some pitching experience. Southpaws Taylor, Price and LaPenna, all rookies, have shown promise to date.

D'Imperio and Callie are counted upon to do the catching, with the latter showing more promise at the plate. Vince and Dominic DeFranco will hold down first and third base respectively again this year. Heard and Pysher seem to have the inside track for second base and shortstop thus far, but are receiving plenty of competition from Martocci and Falcone.

The Bangor outfield is expected to be made up of Castellucci, France and Yannuzzi.

Substitute's Substitute Gains Split Decision Over Hunter

New York (AP)—Terry Moore, a substitute's sub, turned out to be a surprise package last night as he scored a split ten round decision over "Chuck" Hunter of Cleveland in the main bout at St. Nicholas Arena, the Baltimore youngster weighed 159½ to Hunter's 161½.

Called in on 24-hour notice to fill in after Dick Wagner and Ray Barnes were forced out, the 21-year-old understudy made an impressive New York debut.

Crouch

Fighting out of a crouch, he piled up a big lead through the first seven rounds with short jarring punches at short range. He was very effective with a left hook to the head and body.

Judge Harold Barnes voted Moore, 6-3-1, and Referee George Walsh scored for Moore, 5-4-1. Frank Forbes cast his ballot for Hunter, 5-4-1, a decision that was roundly booed by the fans when it was announced. The Associated Press score card had Moore in front, 6-3-1.

Pirates Down Phillies

New Orleans, La. (AP)—An error in the last half of the tenth inning gave the Pittsburgh Pirates a 5-4 victory over the National League champion Philadelphia Phillies last night in an exhibition game.

The New Haven club—made up of Yale freshmen, varsity and grads—now has amassed 16 more points than the previous record winning total of 64 garnered by Ohio State in 1947.

Points

The sprint relay team, with New Haven's second and third outfits taking the third and fourth spots behind Michigan State's ever-challenging quartet, placed 28 points in the 400-yarder.

The 3:23 performance was eight-tenths of a second under the world mark of 3:23.8 set by the New Haven team in 1948, and far under the AAU record of 3:27.3 set by the same Yale squad.

Fourth Period Rally Fails For Warriors

Twin Boroughs hung on grimly in the the last five seconds last night to defeat the Warriors, 54-52, and emerge with the Junior Gold Medal Basketball tournament championship, at the Monroe County YMCA. A terrific fourth period scoring burst failed by two points of reaching its mark for the Warriors.

On at least one occasion during the second half it appeared as if the Twin Boroughs contingent was ready to turn the contest into a one sided affair, but the Warriors came back to throw a real scare into Coach Harland Von Goldberg and his pupils before the final buzzer sounded.

Twin Boroughs held the upper hand throughout the contest, although badly outscored in the final round. The ultimate winner held a 10-6 edge at the end of the opening quarter, and increased the lead to a 26-17 count at the halfway mark.

Same Story

It was almost exactly the same story in the third period, as the Twin Boroughs contingent dominated the scoring, 16-12, to enter the final round on the long end of a 42-29 count.

However, it was during the fourth stanza that the Warriors really stepped the scoring tempo up to a rush. With virtually every member of the team breaking into the scoring column during the last eight minutes, the Warriors outscored Twin Boroughs 23-12, to come within a field goal of tying the score.

Bill Metzgar fouled out of the game for the winning team with one minute remaining and the Warriors pulled to within two points of Twin Boroughs with only five seconds left on the official clock. However, the leading aggregation managed to protect its advantage during the final hectic seconds.

Al Adelman, with 17 points, paced the winning scoring column, while Floyd Williams, with 11 tallies, was the big gun for the Warriors, as every member of the losing squad broke into the point production department.

Tobyhanna Township and Ray's Chiefs meet for third and fourth places in the tournament at 7 p. m. on Monday, while Pocono High school and the Pocono Jets clash in an exhibition game one hour later. Both contests will be played on the YMCA court.

Norris said the beer company which has sponsored IBC Wednesday night shows has a contract which expires May 23. The same company will get first shot at televising the Maxim-Charles bout, but the contract could go to another sponsor with a more lucrative offer, he said.

Switch Possible

In event another sponsor is lined up, Norris said, the Wednesday May 30 date may have to be switched "a day or two, either way" to fit whatever video time the sponsor can arrange.

Television seemed to be the crux of the ceremony. Charles' public manager, Jake Mintz, blurted that "we should see what the television offer will be. If it's not suitable, we shouldn't televise it and get our money at the gate." Mintz proposed a $30 ticket-price top for the bout. This drew an objection from commission member Lou Radzienda that he would not approve higher than $20.

Norris said the price scale would be worked out later, but that he had a $20 or $25 top in mind.

The contracts called Charles to get 40 per cent of the net gate and Maxim 20. There was no provision on the contracts for video fees, but Norris explained it would be on the same percentage basis. 40 per cent for Charles and 20 per cent for Maxim of whatever television plan develops.

The two fighters also agreed to a re-match within 90 days if Maxim upsets the Cincinnati champion who outpointed him in three previous meetings. The re-match split would be 30-30.

Irish Entry Favored To Cop Today's Running Of Grand National Steeplechase At Aintree

Aintree, England (AP) — The Irish-bred jumper Shagreen emerged last night as a clear favorite to win today's one hundred and fifth running of the Grand National steeplechase.

Shagreen, owned by James V. Rank, millionaire flour miller, replaced the American-owned Arctic Gold as the number one choice for the tough four and one-half mile grind.

At the final callover of odds in London last night Britain's bookmakers listed Shagreen at 17 to 2. Arctic Gold, owned by the American sportsman John Hay "Jock" Whitney, was listed at nine to one. Previously, the two horses had been joint favorites at eight to one. The Irish-trained, ten-year-old bay gelding Shagreen has been increasing in popularity since early March when he ran a good trial in treacherous weather and footing.

Other Odds

Third and fourth in the final odds list were Freebooter, half brother to an Irish plowhorse and winner last year, 100 to nine, and Roimond and Cloncarraig at 100 to eight each.

Roimond was second to Russian Hero in the 1949 National, while Cloncarraig was leading last year when he fell two fences from home in the 30-jump course, and Freebooter won for Mrs. Lurline

Brotherton.

Barring a sudden change in the weather—it's been chilly but dry here for three days—about 38 or 39 horses are expected to go to the post (10:15 a.m., EST).

The still eligible Lucky Purchase and Hal's Venture are considered almost definite non-starters, while Royal Tan is on the doubtful list.

Should they all be withdrawn it would be the first time since before World War Two that less than 40 started.

Rain could cause a big shift in sentiment, for Shagreen prefers good going. Freebooter needs good to firm underfooting because of his topweight of 175 pounds.

Cage Scandal Reflection On Schools

Fond Du Lac, Wis. (AP)—Minnesota's Gov. Luther P. Youngdahl said yesterday that student reaction to the recent basketball scandal arrests reflected failure of the educational system.

Youngdahl told 4,300 members of the Northeastern Wisconsin Education association. "That college athletes would stoop to such dishonesty is a tragic commentary on our modern society. But an even worse sign of failure to train young people in the art of living with integrity was the attitude of their fellow students."

Petitions. "Were they shocked? Were they ashamed by this plot on the record of their school? No! City College of New York loved its crooked heroes. Petitions with faculty and student signatures quickly demanded that the boys be allowed to come back to get their degrees some day."

"Long Island University students waved a sign addressed to their arrested stars saying 'Sherrin, Leroy, Al, we still love you.' 'This all adds up to one thing. American youth must get quickly the sense of mission which is dangerously lacking.'"

Cincinnati Captures Third Straight From Senators, 4-2

Jacksonville, Fla. (AP)—Cincinnati, behind the five-hit pitching of Howie Fox, downed the hapless Washington Senators 4-2 yesterday for their third straight exhibition win.

The Senators used two of their five hits with a Redleg error to chalk up a pair of unearned runs in the seventh. Prior to that, they succeeded in getting only one safety off the fire-balling right-hander while getting only one man to second.

Lead Attack

The Reds, led by terrible Ted Kluszewski and Johnny Pramesa, pounded Washington lefties Al Sima and Floyd Ross for ten assorted bingles. Pramesa whacked out a double and a homer and Kluszewski belted a single and his fifth grapefruit league four-master.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Teams of the Pocono Mountain Baseball League face a truly fair schedule this year, in the humble opinion of this writer. The rural circuit will feature a slate of 18 games for each team, nine to be played at home and the same number on the road. The list of games also finds the ten clubs evenly dividing two holidays, playing at home on Memorial Day and on the road on the fourth of July, or vice-versa. The early finishing date of the circuit this year will also prevent football from stealing much of the circuit's thunder.

The final contest is listed for Sunday, August 26, but if games have been postponed during the regular season, they will be made up by Labor Day. However, if the circuit is fortunate enough to cram all the scheduled games into the stipulated time, the playoffs will begin immediately, so this column was informed following Thursday night's meeting of the schedule committee. Even though the schedule has been drawn up, it will not become official until approved by the entire league at a meeting a week from Monday.

A correction is in order this morning, concerning the erection of bleachers at Tobyhanna Township high school. The American Legion and not the firemen combined with the school and Pocono Lions Club in financing the bleachers to be erected on the basketball court. However, the firemen are taking care of the bleachers on the baseball field and all deserve the world of credit for bettering the athletic situation in the Pocono Lake area. My first report of this improvement neglected to mention the American Legion—very sorry.

Steve Kuk, recently discharged from Blair Academy, effective at the end of the present school year is well known in this area. Steve piloted Bloomingdale, N. J., of the North Atlantic League, for two years and is greatly responsible for the climb of Jim Lemon and Carl Sawatski into the major leagues. Kuk stuck with Lemon when the big flycatcher was striking out so often that the fans thought the red headed manager was wasting his time. However, patience certainly paid off, as Lemon was a member of the Cleveland Indians before being called into service, while Sawatski was catching for the Chicago

Cubs, before he too was summoned by Uncle Sam.

Steve, who once played with the Newark Bears, was the type of guy that was ready to play any position, although he was really at home in the outfield. However, it wasn't uncommon to see the red head on first base or any other infield position, or even make an appearance as a relief pitcher. However, Kuk really brought down the house when he caught a full game at Gordon Giffels field, after both his regular receivers had been injured in previous games. Although it was Steve's first trip behind the plate, he turned in a masterful performance as a catcher. Not only was he popular with the fans, but Kuk was also a good manager.

Steve Roberts' appointment as head master at Perkiomen Prep brings back memories to the people of this area of one of the greatest basketball teams in the history of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. During his tour of duty at ESSTC Roberts was blessed with outstanding cage talent in the persons of "Pistol" Pete Pasko, Ben Ford, John Mascavage, Joe Sager, Larry Disque and Al Ritter. Roberts left Normal Hill for a high school position somewhere in the Thousand Islands and the following year went to Beaver Dam, Wis., where he joined the faculty of Wayland Academy and Junior College. Pasko also joined Roberts on the faculty at Wayland, leaving a couple of years later to join the Wilkes-Barre Barons.

Ford was killed in World War Two, Mascavage is one the faculty of a junior high school in Allentown, while Disque is playing coach of the Williamsport Billies in the Eastern Pro Basketball league. Guy "Turk" Possinger, former basketball star at Stroudsburg High school, is currently a student at Perkiomen and will come under Roberts' rule. Possinger is expected to enter the University of Maryland next year. Gilbert Smrz and A. Friend are the latest people to contribute to the Pocono A. C. local entry in the Blue Mountain league, treasury.

The intra-mural softball league games at ESSTC are being played on the soccer practice field this year, due to the fact that construction of new dormitories has temporarily hampered the game on the usual field near what is now termed the New Dorm.

Here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 6. If the number is less than 6, add 6. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right, then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Some Boards Not Assigned April Quota

Some draft boards in Pennsylvania are not being assigned induction quotas this month, according to Col. Henry M. Gross, State Selective Service director.

"This is part of the evening out process which Selective Service is going through right now," he told the Associated Press in Harrisburg.

The draft director said areas where enlistments have been heavy are being told that inductions will be light this month or that the boards will not have to provide any men.

Mrs. Beulah S. McConnell, chief clerk at Monroe County Selective Service headquarters, pointed out last night the local board has already inducted ten men this month to fulfill the April quota. They were inducted last Wednesday.

Friday, April 13, another contingent of 23 men will be sent to Wilkes-Barre for pre-induction physical examinations.

Apportionment Plan Termed 'One Of Many'

Harrisburg, (AP) — Chairman G. Graybill Diehm of the Senate Reapportionment committee said yesterday a Washington suggestion for congressional redistricting in Pennsylvania is "just one of many."

"Because it comes from Washington, it doesn't mean that we will adopt it," said the Republican Lancaster county state senator.

Pennsylvania's Republican congressional delegation agreed on a plan to do away with districts now represented by Reps. Wilson Gillette, Towanda Republican; Harry F. O'Neill, Scranton Democrat, and James F. Lind, York Democrat.

Diehm disclosed, however, that he will confer here next weekend with Rep. Richard Simpson, Huntingdon, dean of the State's GOP congressional delegation, to go over the plan.

A map showing the Washington idea of how to reduce Pennsylvania's congressional delegation from 33 to 30 because of a population lag has yet to reach him, said Diehm.

Diehm's committee is taking the lead in the Legislature's problem not only to redistrict congressional seats but also to decide on new boundaries for 50 State senatorial seats and 208 assemblymen.

His committee, as well as the one in the House headed by Rep. Adam T. Bower (R-Northumberland), has been deluged with ideas of how to set up the districts.

Diehm said the legislators are now ready to get down to brass tacks on the detailed—and controversial—job of reapportionment after receiving official census figures from Washington earlier in the week.

If abolishment of the congressional seats now held by Gillette, Lind and O'Neill is accomplished, the Pittsburgh and Philadelphia districts would remain intact.

Gillette represents the 14th district — Montour, Columbia, Sullivan, Bradford, Susquehanna, Wayne and Pike counties; O'Neill, the 10th district — Lackawanna county, and Lind, the 21st district — Franklin, Adams and York counties.

All three, however, would be residents of newly arranged districts and could run again in opposition to some of their colleagues.

Mercury Pushes Up To 61 But Weatherman Warns Of Possibility Of Rain Today

That welcome, warm sunshine poked the mercury into the sixties yesterday. The reason, according to Weatherman Michael F. Hannon, was "a big high pressure area" which crept over this region during the night.

Temperatures, for the first time in several days, evened out to average for this time of the year. During the early part of the week they remained cooler than normal.

But yesterday's weather was apparently a "one shot" affair with no immediate promise of becoming a habit... just yet.

Hannon warned there is a "bad low pressure area" headed this way from the west. As it moves eastward it pulls moist air northward from the Gulf region.

If it continues on its course and doesn't skirt this region to the north, rain is almost certain today, he said.

Increased cloudy weather is expected, but the maximum temperature will probably reach the lower 60s for the second consecutive day.

Showers are predicted to begin after nightfall and continue through early Sunday morning.

Sunday will probably be cloudy and warm.

Temperatures yesterday ranged from a high of 61 to a low of 42; mean was 52.

Winds were negligible, reaching an hourly velocity of only 3 mph.
